Labor Ministers Call On Ford II; Ottawa May Act

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Federal Labor Minister Mitchell and Attorney-General Blackwell of Ontario held a long conference today in Dearborn, Mich., with Henry Ford II and John Bugas, Ford director of industrial relations, but they declined any statement after the meeting had broken up.

It was reported the two ministers were making a final effort to negotiate settlement of the strike which has closed the Ford Motor Company of Canada plant here since Sept. 12 in a dispute over a new collective bargaining agreement.

It was believed the Dominion government might intervene with special legislation if there was no settlement. There were reports here that some definite announcement as to the next step would come later this afternoon.

(A bulletin from Ottawa this afternoon said Acting Prime Minister Ilsley, after a three-hour cabinet meeting on the Ford Motor Company dispute at Windsor, Ont., said he did not contemplate making a statement later in the afternoon in the Commons.)

The two cabinet ministers had left for Dearborn hurriedly this morning. They had ordered breakfast in Mr. Mitchell's hotel suite a little earlier, but left before the meal was served.

Mr. Mitchell had said earlier that he might have an announcement to make later. Officers of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) were holding themselves in readiness for a meeting with the ministers on short notice.

Mention Compulsory Arbitration Plan

Should the final effort at conciliation with the company fail to end the strike now in its ninth week and the cause of idleness for some 22,000 strikers here, there was no definite indication of what action the government would take, but compulsory arbitration was considered most likely.

Labor legislation provides no machinery for such a course, but it would presumably be authorized by an order-in-council passed by the federal government under the War Measures Act.

George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers, disclosed late Wednesday night that the union had offered in discussions with the government representatives Tuesday to make concessions in its demands on the 22 points under dispute in the contract with the Ford Motor Company.

"We explored the possibilities of receding from a rigid position on any point in the contract and doing a little horsetrading in order to find a basis of agreement, but I understand the company will not grant any concessions on vital points," Mr. Burt said.

His statement was the nearest thing to any official confirmation of the prevalent opinion that the two cabinet ministers had exhausted the possibilities of negotiating with the company.

1-Day Stoppage At Hamilton Plant

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Officials of the Canadian Westinghouse Company said the one-day "demonstration strike" staged by Local 504, United Electrical Workers (C.I.O.) in support of the striking Ford workers at Windsor, Ont., resulted in 75 per cent of the employees not showing up for work Wednesday. The temporary shutdown ended at 11 p.m. Wednesday.

Meanwhile, employees of the Canada Car and Foundry plant at Brantford called a one-day "strike" for today in sympathy with Ford strikers. The foundry workers are members of the United Automobile Workers of America.

At Oshawa a meeting of Local 222, United Automobile Workers of America, held Wednesday night decided to call a strike vote in the plants three of General Motors Ltd., Duplate Ltd., and Ontario Steel Products Ltd.

The vote, to be conducted by ballot Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, will decide whether union members in those plants will walk out in sympathy with the Ford strikers, a Union official said.

Should strike action be taken, about 4,000 union members would be affected.

U.S. Auto Industry Faces Showdown On Pay Boost Demand

NEW YORK (AP)—A fight by automobile industry workers to obtain a 30 per cent wage increase appeared headed for a showdown today as the last group of employees in the motor industry's "Big Three" voted in favor of strike action to support their C.I.O. union's demands.

The union rejected a compromise wage adjustment offered Wednesday by the General Motors Corporation at negotiations in Detroit after the company had turned down the union's demands as "excessive."

Early returns from National Labor Relations Board voting among 80,000 Ford employees Wednesday disclosed a heavy majority approving a strike action to support the union's wage demands. Employees at General Motors and Chrysler earlier had sanctioned a work stoppage to back up their demands.

(In Canada, Labor Minister Mitchell and Ontario Attorney-General Blackwell conferred with officials of the Ford Motor Company of Canada at Windsor, Ont., in an effort to settle the strike of United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) members which began Sept. 12. If the final conciliation effort fails there was no definite indication of what action the Dominion government would take. Compulsory arbitration was considered most likely.

(Other "Ford sympathy" strikes of one day were staged at the Brantford, Ont., Canada Car and Foundry plant and Hamilton's Canadian Westinghouse Company. At Oshawa Wedesday night a union meeting decided to take a strike vote there at the plants of General Motors Ltd., Duplate Ltd. and Ontario Steel Products Ltd.

Kathleen Carries 789 Jewish Refugees

JERUSALEM (CP) — While police stood by with armored cars and tommyguns to preserve order, 789 Jewish refugees from more than a dozen European countries landed at Haifa without incident from the Canadian Pacific liner Princess Kathleen today.

Most of them spent recent months in camps of the United Nations' Relief and Rehabilitation administration in Italy, where they received certificates for entry from the remaining 3,000 immigration permits under a white paper agreement now in use by the Palestine government. The majority plan to settle in zionist agricultural colonies.

The latest voyage of the Princess Kathleen is of interest to Victorians, acquainted with the ship as a result of the years she spent in the Vancouver-Seattle Victoria service before the Second Great War.

1,000 Indonesians Driven Back By British Indians

BATAVIA (AP) — A band of 1,000 Indonesians today was beaten off by British Indian troops and tanks near Batavia as tension mounted throughout Java.

Almost simultaneously Dutch forces threw back another attack on the Tjililitan airfield, on the southeast outskirts of the capital, scattering a band of 300 Nationalists after a pitched battle which had lasted nearly an hour.

The British colonel whose troops beat back the first attack, aimed at a camp for released Allied internees and war prisoners, said that for the first time the Indonesians appeared to be fighting under organized leadership.

(A delayed dispatch from Palembang, Sumatra, said reports reaching there told of the slaying by Sumatran Nationalists of a British doctor, a British officer and several other high-ranking British personnel, near Benkoelen, Tuesday.)

Vancouver Mercury Sets 9-Year Low

VANCOUVER (CP)—A new record low November temperature for Vancouver for nine years at least and possibly beyond 1936 was established overnight when the mercury slipped to 21. The low temperatures continued today, with intermittent snow and later rain forecast for this evening.

The 21 was two degrees below the previous November low mark set Nov. 12, 1940. Records of the present weather bureau go back only to 1936, so it is not known for what period the 21 is a new low.

Mayor Would Bring Plane Fares Down

The suggestion that C.P. Airlines should be asked to reduce their rates to meet the fares now offered by T.C.A. between Victoria and Vancouver was offered by Mayor Percy George today, and he stated he would support any move to file a protest with the Board of Transport Commissioners in Ottawa.

Wednesday it was announced from Ottawa that the board had issued orders requiring the T.C.A. to raise its rates for a one-way flight between Victoria and Vancouver from $3 to $5.30 to meet the C.P.A. rates. The return trip will be raised from $5.50 to $10.

Mayor George said that he felt for some considerable time that representations should be made to have the C.P. Airlines rates reduced because it was apparent that if one company could operate on the lower tariff and maintain service, so could the other.

"I feel very strongly on this point," Mayor George said. "It is a situation on which the municipalities must take immediate action."

B.C. Purchases Further $335,000; Island Goes Over 9th Loan Quota

The B.C. government invested a further $335,000 in the 9th Victory Loan, bringing the total 9th loan investments of the government to $7,835,000, Premier John Hart announced today, as Vancouver Island passed its loan objective with every unit but one over the top, and that one promising its quota before tonight.

Greater Victoria has subscribed $9,600,250 on its new objective of $11,760,000 in tribute to the Canadian Scottish who will soon be home. The original quota was passed Monday.

Saanich, Esquimalt Rural and Gulf Islands unit, with 100 per cent; Cowichan-Duncan, with 102.3 per cent, and Nanaimo, with 104.2 per cent, went over the top since Wednesday, leaving Courtenay-Comox with 98 per cent, the only unit on the island which has not passed its quota. Alberni-West Coast continues to lead the province with 150 per cent of quota subscribed.

The investments announced today by the Premier were of various pensions funds of the government. The B.C. government's total holdings of Victory Bonds now are $69,813,000, the largest amount held by a provincial government.

GROUP PAYROLLS

Group payroll firms that have now gone over the top in Victoria include Burns & Co., Diggon-Hibben Ltd., W. H. Malkin Co. Ltd., Kirkham's Ltd., McLeod-Lumsden Motors Ltd. and E. A. Morris Ltd.

In Duncan, which achieved its quota today, the following firms achieved 100 per cent of their payroll quota: Industrial Timber Mills, Youbou; Summit Lumber Co., Mayor Bros. Timber Co., George H. Moore Logging Co.

Northwestern Creameries have now more than doubled their honor quota, while B.C. Electric Co., Veterans' Sightseeing and Victoria Tug Co. have earned their honor quota. B.C. Telephone employees and C.P.S. Lumber Co. emloyees have now made their quota.

Standings on the island at noon today were as follows:

	Subscribed	% of Quota
Saanich, Esquimalt Rural and Gulf Is.	$1,276,050	100
Cowichan-Duncan	1,125,100	102.3
Courtenay-Comox	735,600	98
Nanaimo	1,120,200	104.2
Alberni-West Coast	937,950	150

Referendum On B.C.E.R. Off But Mayor George Still Favors It

Mayor Percy George still feels that it is the right of the electorate of Greater Victoria to say whether or not they are in favor of the principle of public ownership of public utilities in the area, he stated today upon his return from Vancouver.

However, he admitted that in the face of the refusal of the other eight representatives on the special nine-man committee of the 31 municipalities, to approve the idea of such a referendum, it was extremely doubtful if any good purpose could be served by holding one here.

He pointed out that the referendum which was mooted a week ago would merely be an expression of opinion by the people on a principle, and that in the event of their approval of the idea of public ownership then the respective councils would have a mandate to investigate all angles of how the B.C.E.R. assets could be taken over, obtain the necessary legislative action, and start financial negotiations.

'PEOPLE'S RIGHT'

"We have no way of knowing now whether or not the people would have been interested in taking over the B.C.E.R. under the inancial arrangements outlined by Premier Hart," he said. "It is their right and prerogative to say what they want, not mine to deny them that privilege."

Mayor George also stressed that in the event of approval being given the principle of public ownership, after negotiations for the taking over of the utilities had been completed, the ratepayers would then have been given the opportunity, on a plebiscite, to say whether or not they approved the expenditure of any money for the purchase.

The whole question is being discussed this afternoon as representatives of the four municipalities of Greater Victoria meet to hear Mayor George's report.

Mayor George said that in view of the discussions that have been held he doubts if the provincial government would be prepared to authorize the acquiring of part of the B.C.E.R. system.

"It will be a case of the whole system or none of it," he commented.

Information Ordered For Pearl Harbor Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House today said President Truman has ordered that the joint congressional committee investigating the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor must be supplied with any information it desires.

The President's action came at a time when Republicans and Democrats on the investigating committee were contending political considerations are imperiling the value of the whole inquiry.

Chinese Communists Ask Apology, Compensation From U.S. Govt.

CHUNGKING (AP)—Chinese Communists demanded today that Lt.-Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, United States commander in China, apologize and that compensation be paid for alleged American "interference" in China's internal struggle.

The Reds also demanded that Chinese government troops withdraw from all Red-dominated areas as the price for peace, but asserted that the government, instead, was planning an all-out offensive for which 90 divisions were being massed in the north.

4 LETTERS OF PROTEST

The demand for Gen. Wedemeyer's apology was contained in one of four protesting letters sent to the U.S. commander by the Communists' Yenan headquarters.

Spokesmen at the Communist headquarters called "a complete lie" government claims that the Nationalists have been and would remain strictly on the defensive. More than 70 government divisions have massed around "liberated areas" of Honan Province, and Hopeh Province, is surrounded by more than 20 government divisions, the Communists asserted.

Chou En-Lai, Yenan negotiator here and No. 2 Chinese Communist, announced the Yenan answer to Kuomintang peace proposals shortly after reports that the Russians had withdrawn from the Mancurian ports of Hulutao and Yingkow (Newchwang), leaving the Chinese Reds in command, heightened the tense atmosphere.

Chou said the Communists demanded withdrawal to positions outside the "liberated" areas before the civil fighting began and all Nationalist troops be ordered to cease firing.

The worried-looking Communist representative told newspapermen of the Yenan reply to Chiang Kaishek's offer and said: "The situation appears dangerous."

ADMIT SEA-BACK

Other developments were:

1. The Central government admitted receiving its first serious set-back in the fighting in southern Hopeh Province.

2. Communists followed up the announcement in Washington that U.S. Marines would be withdrawn from the trouble zone with a series of four protests to the U.S. commander in Yenan, and held the Americans "responsible for any grave consequence" resulting from their presence.

Britain to Reduce Its Wheat Acreage

WINNIPEG (CP)—Assurance that British wheat will not provide competition to Canadian wheat on the British market, was given by James Turner, president of the National Farmers' Union of England and Wales, at the 39th annual dinner meeting of the United Grain Growers Ltd., Wednesday night.

Most of the British wheat is for soft biscuit flour and feed, he said. Already plans are under way in Britain to reduce the wheat acreage that has been built up by 82 per cent during the war. Mr. Turner, guest speaker at the dinner, flew here after attending the F.A.O. conference in Quebec City.

A.P. Quotes View Allied Armies May Quit Japan After 5 Years

Glenn Babb, foreign editor of the Associated Press, has returned on tour to the Orient, to study conditions under Allied occupation. Babb came back from Asia to New York in 1935 after long service in north China and as Tokyo bureau chief. In this article he discusses the occupation of Japan, having had conferences with Gén. MacArthur, Premier Shidehara and other high officials.

By GLENN BABB

TOKYO (AP)—The tremendous Allied task in Japan possibly can be fulfilled within three to five years, with an occupying force of approximately 200,000 men.

That is the expressed opinion of many of the men here who should know best, provided the present rate of progress is maintained and there are no drastic changes in policies given occupying authorities.

There is confidence here that within such a period militarism can be eradicated, a reasonable facsimile of democracy planted and a restricted measure of economic well-being restored. Then, in this view, Allied armies can be withdrawn, possibly to be replaced by some other form of control, with confidence that Japan will be a useful member of the family of nations with no desire or power to make war again.

This picture was developed from talks with the highest United States and Japanese leaders. The confidence expressed is perhaps more American than Japanese; some Japanese who express the hope that the occupation will last many years, regarding it as a shield against further disaster.

Gen. MacArthur would not permit his conversation with me to be quoted and he is in no way responsible for the statements made herein. My talks with Premier Shidehara and members of his cabinet contributed to these conclusions.

Gen. MacArthur is known to be content with the progress of his program of demilitarization and democratization.

In public statements, the Allied commander has expressed confidence an occupation force of 200,000 for both Japan and Korea will be sufficient after next spring if no untold developments occur.

Americans and Japanese agree that thus far there has been 100 per cent compliance with the series of hard-hitting directives issued from Allied headquarters.

It is anticipated that British, Chinese and Soviet units may be added to the occupation armies within a reasonable time and that other powers will be give a larger share than now in the over-all policy making.

But the Japanese dread any increase in Russia's share of the control of their fate. Cabinet ministers decline to discuss Russia for publication, but talks with Japanese in high places make their fears manifest. The Japanese government, despite the return of men who spent the years of militarist domination in eclipse because of their liberalism, contains many men of conservative social and economic views. These are known to fear the danger of communization if Russian influence becomes strong.

Canadians Richer Than Ever, Bankers' Association Told

TORONTO (CP) — Canadians are starting the new peace era with $6,763,000,000 more money than they ever had before, and unless good sense is shown in its management, a disastrous inflationary spiral could bring about impoverishment, S. M. Wedd, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, said today in his address at the annual meeting of the association.

Mr. Wedd, vice-president and general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who is retiring after two years as president of the Bankers' Association, pledged the banks, through their branches across the country, to "furnish sympathetic counsel and understanding advice" to all returning men and women who may seek it.

Referring to the accumulation of wealth in Canada, Mr. Wedd said $1,131,000,000 represented an increase in savings deposits, $241,500,000 in War Savings Certificates, $4,608,100,000 in savings invested in Victory Bonds, and $783,000,000 was ready cash in pockets and tills.

As long as it is necessary to avert inflation, some residue of wartime controls must remain in Canada, declared the speaker, but, he added. "I am sure it is the studied conclusion of all thinking Canadians that the ideal national policy would be one which aims to decontrol as rapidly as order will allow, and as the danger of inflation recedes."

Says Canada Averted Extinction of Greeks

MONTREAL (CP) — Christos Vasmadzides, director of the Agricultural Bank of Greece, said in an interview here Wednesday that Canadian aid prevented the total obliteration of the Greek nation during the war.

Mr. Vasmadzides, who represented the Greek government at the United Nations' Conference in San Francisco and at the Food and Agricultural Organization Conference in Quebec, is returning to his homeland by way of New York.

Recalling the tragedy of 1941, when starvation stalked Greece, he said.

"It was at the moment when thousands were dying in the streets that the blockade was lifted and the Swedish mercy ships from Canada, loaded with wheat and medical supplies were arriving from the various ports of Canada.

"The panic derived from the approaching death from starvation was gone and new courage to live was discovered."

9th Loan Sets Friday As Scottish Tribute Day

Every bond bought in Victoria Friday will be marked as a special tribute to the 16th Scottish, now en route home, officials of the 9th Victory Loan committee announced today, and efforts are being made in the recanvass to make this the biggest day yet in the 9th Loan, which will be the last for a year. Shown above is a group of the 1st Canadian Scottish embarking for overseas—a scene soon to be duplicated as they return during the latter part of this month. The men of the Scottish are among the staunchest supporters of the 9th Victory Loan, according to a cable received at loan headquarters today from Lt.-Col. Cyril Wightman of the Scottish. On a quota of $22,000, 475 men of the regiment have subscribed $103,150 to date.

A HEALTH point in favor of lipstick is advanced by E. G. Applegate c the New Jersey Health Department. He says it is instrumental in more rigid enforcement of health regulations by making obvious any failure on the part of restaurants to wash glasses.

CANADIAN plumbers see plenty of business ahead when supplies are available. Sixty-three per cent of homes in the country have no running water; one i five has no hot water on tap. Even in cities one-third of the homes heat water on stoves in the summer. In the cities one family in 33 is without a sink. Only one farm family in six has a sink and half of these have no taps for the sinks.

COST OF LIVING has reached a new high in China. Landlords now charge two years' rent in advance. In a typical case, a tenant paid $400,000 (Chinese) for 1945 and 1946 for two small rooms, a tiny kitchen and no bathroom. The official rate of exchange is 20 Chinese dollars to one U.S. dollar, although the black market rate is around 400 to one.

Filipino Witness Tells How Japs Killed Hundreds In Deep Pits

MANILA (AP) — The grim story of a Japanese reign of terror in Batangas Province, where 25,000 men, women and children were brutally mistreating or murdered in seven months, began to unfold today before the military commission hearing war crimes charges against Lt.-Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita.

Survivors said the death toll of civilians was far greater in Batangas than it was in Manila. Populations of entire villages were reported to have been held at bay at the point of Japanese guns while the invaders burned down all their homes.

The prosecution's first Batangas witness was Lieut. James P. Healey of San Francisco, a war crimes investigation officer, who said he had learned that some 6,000 Japanese soldiers ran rampant over the province from Oct. 9, 1944, to May 1 of this year, committing acts of brutality on the grounds their victims were guerrillas.

Next witness was a Filipino, Pampilo Umali, from the province, who related that he was tied up with "about 700 men and I don't know the number of women but there were many," and "led off to a well about 300 feet wide and 60 feet deep."

One by one they were made to jump into the well, Umali said.

"When my time came, about 200 already had jumped and after I jumped at least another 100 followed me."

Before Japanese soldiers covered the well, Umali said, they threw in some rocks and fired in many shots.

After midnight, the witness continued, some Filipino women sneaked to the well and lowered ropes, up which six men escaped. Many of the women liberators were captured and never seen again.

Another Filipino, Victor Manquait, said he was trussed up and marched off with 300 to another well. The one Umali had been in was filled with bodies by that time.

En route, Manquait dashed to freedom, but was hit by two of seven bullets Japanese soldiers fired after him. He returned to the well a few days later and found the bodies of many men and women with whom he had started the march. Manquait said none of the marchers was seen alive again.

Left Alone in House, 2 Children Die in Fire

LACHINE, Que. (CP) — Two young children left alone by their mother when she went to a nearby store, lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the kitchen of their home in this Montreal suburb late Wednesday night.

The victims were Robert O'Rourke, five, and his seven-year-old sister, Nicole, the only children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Rourke.

Firemen found the youngsters in an adjoining room and rushed them to hospital, where doctors said they died from suffocation, although they also were badly burned.

Only $89,000,000 Needed to Top Canada's 9th Victory Loan Quota

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's 9th Victory Loan was within $89,000,000 of its minimum objective of $1,500,000,000 today as the national total soared to $1,410,183,200 on a wave of new subscriptions which indicated the drive would be oversubscribed before its closing day Saturday.

National War Finance Committee headquarters reported that Wednesday, 15th day of canvassing in the three-week campaign, brought in $120,536,950, compared with $77,994,550 on the corresponding day of the 8th Loan drive last spring. National total at the same point of the last loan was $1,152,270,950.

Sales to individual Canadians, who have the biggest objective ever—$800,000,000—reached $69,272,500 Wednesday against $35,634,650 on the same day last time.

This boosted the cumulative individual total to $764,440,100, just short of the goal. Total individual subscriptions at the same point in the 8th Loan was $521,042,850.

In the B.C.-Yukon division three more divisions were over the top—Vancouver Island, New Westminster-Fraser Valley and Kootenay. Seven of the divisions in the far west unit are now over their quotas. The armed forces were soaring into astronomical figures. The Navy reported 348 per cent, Army 345 per cent and the R.C.A.F. 233 per cent.

Alberta within 8.4 per cent of reaching its over-all quota, was expected to go over the top within the next 24 hours. The province's quota was $51,000,000 and by Wednesday night it had reported $46,618,950 for 91.6 per cent.

Four more Alberta units went over the top, as did the Calgary division of the Canadian National Railway where, in the payroll section alone, 92 per cent of the employees marked up 101 per cent of their quota. Lethbridge still led all Alberta cities with 122 per cent, while Red Deer had 109 and Medicine Hat 108.

Calgary reported 98 per cent with a total of $7,553,000 and Edmonton 89 per cent with $6,865,000.

Ontario loan officials announced they will exceed their initial objective of $679,345,600 and that they have raised their objective to $800,000,000.

Wednesday's subscriptions amounted to $73,781,500 bringing the total so far to $638,447,500. Subscriptions on the corresponding day of the 8th Loan amounted to $63,570,250 and the comparative cumulative total was $468,646,100.

Sales in Saskatchewan totaled $35,711,650 at noon Wednesday, loan headquarters reported. The total was made up of $29,142,550 in individual sales and $6,569,100 in the special names section. Saskatchewan's quota is $44,900,000.

Largest investment reported Wednesday was American Can Co., Hamilton and Vancouver, $1,750,000.

$35,000 Bird Park Planned in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Parks Board of this city committed itself Wednesday to the erection of a $35,000 bird park, just west of the duck ponds, in Stanley Park.

E. H. Lewis, aviculturalist, has promised to stay with the Vancouver project until the bird park is constructed and stocked. Mr. Lewis is the originator of the famous bird park on Catalina Island, off the coast of California.

Would Return Them

DUBLIN, Eire (Reuter)—The Fianna Fail, Irish government party, Wednesday approved a resolution calling for the removal of statues here "commemorative of aliens or alien occupation." A spokesman said that if the removal of the statues—of Queen Victoria, Admiral Nelson and others—would cause any embarrassment to "our friends across the water," Eire would gladly make them a present of the lot.

British Act To Control Investments

LONDON (Reuter)—Two important bills which form part of the Labor government's nationalization policies probably will be introduced in the House of Commons before Christmas, political observers said today.

They are:

1. A measure to control investments so that money will be available for developing essential industries rather than luxury trades;

2. A bill to nationalize the coal mines—a measure expected to produce heated controversy.

After these are disposed of, it is believed the government will introduce measures to take control of railways, other forms of transport, and gas and electricity. These highly controversial measures are expected to come before the House of Commons early in 1946 and to be followed some time later by a government announcement of its intentions concerning the iron and steel industries.

In connection with the first of these bills to reach the House—that concerning investments—it is understood the government is determined that invested money shall flow where it is most needed both for reviving Britain's war-wrecked export trade and for providing essentials for the queue-weary housewife.

Experts advising the government believe there will be such demand for goods during the next two years that everything Britain can produce will be disposed of as various countries are already clamoring for British goods. However, at the end of that period quick absorption will disappear and a sterner fight against foreign competition will develop.

Prize Court To Be Established House Told; Memorials Debated

OTTAWA (CP) — Suggestions for war memorials to commemorate those who died in the Second Great War were made Wednesday as the Commons began debate on second reading of a bill to bring such memorials under the War Charities Act.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, expressed general approval of the legislation and suggested recreational facilities for young people be established in Canadian communities as a suitable form of war memorial which would do the most good.

Rev. E. G. Hansell, S.C., MacLeod, Alta., said he was not entirely in sympathy with the view that war memorils were just "blocks of stone." To some, especially those whose sons and husbands lay in unknown war graves, they had some significance.

The debate was continuing at adjournment Wednesday night.

The early proceedings were enlivened when the House, in the closest division of the new session, voted 102-91 against a C.C.F. motion asking for production documents concerning certain government investigations into shoe manufacturing companies.

DOCUMENTS PRIVILEGED

The mover of the motion, Stanley Knowles, C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre, disagreed with the contention of Finance Minister Ilsley, acting Prime Minister, that as inter-departmental communications the documents were privileged and confidential.

Another motion to establish a committee to study revisions of rules of the House was passed.

The House gave third and final reading to a bill to set up a prize court to deal with enemy vessels seized during the war and heard from John Diefenbaker, P.C., Lake Centre, Sask., a suggestion that the Exchequer Court, to which the Prize Court will be attached, be expanded to enable it to catch up with a heavy roll of judgments already overdue.

Liberals' Support Continues To Increase In Dominion

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

TORONTO—Canada's political sea, churned somewhat prior to the federal elections last June 11, has remained notably calm since that date, according to a nation-wide Gallup Poll just completed.

Gains shown by the Liberal Party may be partly accounted for by the fact that some candidates who ran in the election as "independents," have since identified themselves with the Liberal Party. Support behind such candidates would be shown in the "others" column in the following table at election time, and would now be included in the Liberal strength. The Progressive Conservatives' following decreased in this poll. Moreover, sample poll results are subject to a four-point margin.

Since its inception in Canada in late 1941, the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion, or Gallup Poll, has kept continuous tab on Canada's political thinking. Basic question for all these surveys was this:

"If a Dominion election were held today, would you prefer to see your riding elect a Liberal, Progressive Conservative, C.C.F., Bloc Populaire, or other candidate?"

The poll's findings are summarized in this table, which shows national political trends since the 1940 federal election, through the 1945 election, up to the current picture:

	Lib. %	Prog. Con. %	C.C.F. %	Bloc Pop. %	Others %
1940 election	55	31	8	—	6
Jan., 1942	55	30	10	—	5
Sept., 1942	39	23	21	—	17
Feb., 1943	32	27	23	7	11
Sept. 1943	28	28	29	9	6
Jan., 1944	30	29	24	9	8
Sept., 1944	36	27	24	5	8
Jan., 1945	36	28	22	6	8
April, 1945	36	29	20	6	9
Election forecast (June 9, 1945)	39	29	17	5	10
Election (June 11, 1945)	41	29	15	3	12
Today	44	26	17	4	9

That there is at least some connection between the public's political leanings and its view on the moot question of government ownership of industry is indicated by the fact that in the fall of 1943, when (as will be seen from the table above) the C.C.F. strength was at high-tide, popular sentiment towards government ownership was also at a high to date. Since that date, both the C.C.F. strength and the support of government ownership, as measured by the Gallup Poll, have apparently ebbed.

Famed Song Writer Gus Edwards Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Gus Edwards, 66, veteran songwriter, actor and movie director, died Wednesday night following a heart attack. He had been in motion pictures since 1928 and was on the New York stage for 30 years. Among the stars he helped discover and develop was Eddie Cantor, Georgie Jessel and Mae Murray.

Mr. Edwards had been in ill health for several years.

Among his hit songs were "School Days," "In My Merry Oldsmobile," "Sunbonnet Sue" and "By the Light of the Silvery Moon."

One of his last musical assignments in Hollywood was the writing of the songs and story based on his life and entitled, "The Star Maker," starring Bing Crosby.

Mr. Edwards was born in a small town in Germany and came to the United States when he was nine. He sang as a boy in restaurants, and became a cailboy in a theatre. He produced several successful shows, among them "Gus Edwards' Schoolboys and Girls."

Among others discovered by Edwards were Lila Lee, Georgia Price, Walter Winchell, Groucho Marx, the Duncan Sisters, Lillian Lorraine, Larry Adler, Eleanor Powell, Mervyn Leroy, Bert Wheeler, Earl Carroll and Hidegarde.

Chinese Immigration Laws Called Unfair

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Chen Li-jen, counsellor of the Chinese Ministry of Overseas Affairs, who is visiting Canada and the United States, said in an interview here today that now "the war is over we feel something should be done to change the immigration policy of Canada toward Chinese."

Mr. Chen said some modification of policy would be "a gesture of goodwill to international cooperation." He said Canada's policy barring Chinese women was unfair and meant that Chinese men here have no family life.

Such regulations apply only to Chinese and he said: "We would like equal treatment with other nationals. We are looking for better relations, but the law seems to be a handicap."

2 Kamikaze Pilots Try to Assassinate Jap Home Minister

TOKYO (AP)—Two vagrant former Kamikaze pilots who waited with drawn knives in the darkened halls of the Home Ministry attempted vainly Wednesday night to assassinate Home Minister Kenjiro Horikiri.

The 61-year-old minister, attacked as he returned from addressing a meeting of police chiefs on the increase of crime and "chaotic" conditions in Japan, was not injured. The assailants were taken into custody.

At his desk as usual today, Horikiri dismissed the attempt against his life as "unimportant,' except as it emphasized the increased "restlessness" among the people.

"The social situation, as you know, is deteriorating," he told the Associated Press in a telephone interview.

Horikiri said he might visit the Ueno Park relief station here, where the two former pilots had been living with hundreds of other vagrants, many of whom are forced to sleep in the open. The attack, he said, was in protest against conditions at the station.

"Food is the centre of the problem," said Horikiri. "But the ideological change the people are undergoing and other factors also have increased the unrest. Such attacks may happen again."

The critical food situation, which the Home Minister placed as the focal point of the unrest, has been multiplied by flourishing black market and the increasing reluctance of farmers to sell their produce at government prices, which are only about 1-30th of the black market.

The Nippon Times reported many Chiba Prefecture farmers were allowing their sweet potatoes to rot in the ground rather than accept government pay rates. The people of Tokyo are traveling by the hundreds of thousands to the countryside during the week-ends to supplement their food rations with black market produce.

Sea Union Strike Delays Sailing

SEATTLE (AP)—A dispute between the Marine Cooks and Stewards Association and the Alaska Steamship Co., delayed Wednesday the sailing of Ss. Yukon with 250 pasengers for Alaska.

The union said its demands for payment of overtime for pantrymen and compensation for feeding passengers after the ship has been more than four hours in port had not been met. The company said the real issue was the use by the crew of the passengers' dining-room for meetings at sea.

Woodsmen Wrap Feet

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — A survey of clothing stores here Wednesday revealed an acute shortage of heavy wool socks. Dealers said some men working in the woods have resorted to wrapping their feet in cloth and covering them with a single pair of light socks.

NOW A DEAD ISSUE

AT A MEETING IN VANCOUVER YESterday, a nine-man steering committee, composed of the mayors and reeves representing 31 municipalities, negatived the idea of plebiscites designed to ask the electors whether or not they desired to purchase the various properties of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company. In view of that decision, therefore, the people of the districts concerned in the proposal are entitled to consider the matter closed. Nor is there the least likelihood of its revival unless the owners of the various utilities involved should fail to provide such services as modern trends so obviously demand. And the company's ambitious program of improvement and expansion would seem to remove all cause for community apprehension on that score.

No profitable purpose would be served by rehashing the controversial interplay between the provincial government and some of the civic leaders. On several occasions the Premier of the province has emphasized his implacable disinclination to "invade the field of municipal responsibility." We have recorded his attitude several times in these columns. If there has been a disposition in some quarters to qualify Mr. Hart's statement of policy, or to confuse it with the government's power development scheme, this aspect of the discussion was effectively disposed of by yesterday's unanimous decision. The matter of a precise mandate was never in question. As to its general program for the province as a whole, including rural electrification, the provincial administration can point to the results of the election last month. And by no stretch of the imagination could municipal acquisition and operation of the holdings of the B.C.E.R. be linked to the popular verdict then reached.

By reason of the editorial crossfire which has taken place both here and in Vancouver, however, we would remind our readers that as far back as April, 1944, we posed these three pertinent inquiries which we considered demanded examination as part of the approach to the whole subject of acquisition of the company's properties:

1. Has the British Columbia Electric Railway Company a plan of its own for the modernization of its property—one, for instance, that would improve its services sufficiently to induce greater utilization of power with the concomitant prospect of lower rates?

2. Can the company hold out any hope of more efficient and more comfortable transportation from its street railway system?

3. If the British Columbia Electric Railway Company is contemplating such innovations as the foregoing envisage, is it ready to present them to the public as a postwar measure, both in its own material interest and as evidence that private enterprise lacks neither vision nor initiative?

Nobody expected a categorical or immediate answer to those questions. They were asked on April 17, 1944, nearly two months before D-Day. None could foresee the unfolding events which finally led to victory in Europe. Rigid controls of practically every industrial commodity were being meticulously applied. And much vital material required in peacetime expansion is still in short supply. But many months ago the British Columbia Electric Railway Company announced in specific language numerous plans that already were on the drafting board—involving the expenditure of $50,000,000 for the postwar period.

Much performance has followed this promise. And the public is now in possession of tangible evidence that the points raised in the questions set forth above are being progressively and satisfactorily dealt with. Private enterprise is, indeed, demonstrating that it "lacks neither vision nor initiative." In other words, municipal acquisition and operation of the B.C.E.R., in view of yesterday's decision in Vancouver, may now be considered a dead issue.

'EARNEST CONSIDERATION'

IN THEIR PERSISTENT PLEAS FOR frankness in international dealings, it would be well if people turned a little of their thought into a domestic study of present official courtesy forms and the debasing of phrases which should mean what they do not. We have in mind particularly the formal response by a public body after hearing the brief of some delegation which seeks concessions that the public body is not prepared to give. With almost monotonous regularity the spokesman for the group to whom the petition is addressed promises the petitioners that their case will be given "earnest consideration." The phrase is vague enough in its own meaning. But when it is merely the courteous substitute for "nothing doing" it becomes completely dishonest. It would be much better if the petitioners were told forthrightly that their submissions have been rejected. Then they could take themselves elsewhere. But the promise of "earnest consideration" leads them to believe there is a possibility of action. And there occasionally is. But it is safe to say that if there are signposts on the road to oblivion, the words which stand out most prominently are promises of "earnest consideration."

EFFECTIVE PREPATORY WORK

WHILE SOME PARTS OF THE FAR East are still disturbed by armed conflict between rival political forces, and Arab and Jew are glaring ominously at one another in the Middle East, it is gratifying to know that after nearly three months of painstaking discussion the Executive Committee of the Preparatory Commission of the United Nations Organization has decided upon Nov. 23 as the starting date of the 51-nation conference of the full Preparatory Commission. It will also recommend the convocation of the first or constituent part of the General Assembly's meeting for the first week of January next year. It is further hoped that the second or functional part of this body's deliberations may be held in April in the new home of the U.N.O. "somewhere in the United States."

Unlike the recent unsuccessful meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers of the "Big Five" in the British capital, the Executive Committee of the Preparatory Commission knew what it wanted to do, took its time in its examination of disagreements and difficulties, and finally reached an accord on which concrete action could be taken. But it does not follow that the Preparatory Commission will be in the mood when it meets on Nov. 23 to adopt in any perfunctory manner the 248-page report of the smaller body. On the contrary, it is hoped and expected that it will subject this document to the most searching consideration in order that solid ground shall be established on which the first meeting of the General Assembly can set out to reach the goal designed for it at the San Francisco Conference last spring.

It will be recalled that Mr. Edward R. Stettinius, the United States delegate, who is now back in New York under medical care, had hoped to set the opening of the Preparatory Commission's conference on Wednesday of this week, with the Assembly to begin its initial labors on Dec. 4. But it is all to the good that the desire for haste gave way to a practical broadening of the prospects of success. That this procedure succeeded is attested by the remarks from Mr. Adlai Stevenson, deputising for Mr. Stettinius, who said:

"We have passed another important milestone in the history of the United Nations. We have completed the first stage in developing collaboration among nations. It is a significant moment. Although we have had disagreements, as we had at Dumbarton Oaks and San Francisco, on 90 per cent or more of our final report, we have agreed unanimously.

"We have had our disagreements and we still continue to have them. What is important is not that we differ from time to time; but that we have gone on broadening the area of agreement, and in the process we have learned to understand each other. The way to collaborate is to collaborate. That is what this executive committee has done, and I believe we will continue to do so."

In view of the, at times, somewhat truculent or contradictory attitude of Mr. Molotov at the meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers, it is noteworthy that at the final session of the Executive Committee of the Preparatory Commission, Mr. Andrei Gromyko, who was the Russian Foreign Commissar's chief aide at San Francisco, said the Soviet delegation had done its best "to help prepare such recommendations as, according to its convictions, would help the Preparatory Commission and the General Assembly to solve their tasks more efficiently."

All in all, therefore, it would seem that this executive organism, with nothing like the fanfare which attended the deliberations of the group operating under the Potsdam decree, scored a notable success.

LEY'S LEGACY

ONE ACCOUNT OF THE SUICIDE OF Robert Ley included this sentence: "Ley composed a strange document conceding the errors of Nazilsm and indicating that his downfall had deranged him to some extent." That is an interesting conjecture. And if the writer of the story were comparing the "political testament" of the one-time Nazi labor boss with his past deeds and utterances, then Ley was indeed deranged. But Ley was a scientist before he became the drunken, bigoted fanatical Nazi hoodlum who created the "Strength Through Joy" movement. And it may be that some of the scientist's lucidity returned to him in the last days of the evil life that he chose to end.

Much that Ley said in his "deranged" testament had the ponderous conviction of prophecy. He told the German people: "We have forsaken God, and therefore we are forsaken by God. We put our human voilition in the place of His godly grace. In anti-Semitism we violated the basic commandment of His creation." Certainly these three sentences are a persuasive summing up of the crime and punishment of the German people—the most terrible crime by an enlightened nation in the history of man. They form a valuable legacy to a recently deranged people from one of the mad leaders whom they had believed and followed from "Strength Through Joy" to ruin and despair.

FAIRY TALE

SHINING BRIGHTLY IN THE GRIM news budget of postwar troubles is the almost fairy tale story of Jaromir Vejvoda, who became rich, though he did not know it, by giving the world a tuneful melody that helped to lift human spirits when they had few sources from which to draw carefree enjoyment. Jaromir Vejvoda, obscure Czech brass band leader, apparently had little knowledge of the manner in which his composition "Roll Out the Barrel" had swept the Anglo-Saxon world. When a satisfactory monetary agreement is reached between Britain and his country he will reap the benefits of his effort in imposing royalties. And the world will find a measure of small but important satisfaction in learning of the good fortune of the man who created the rollicking ballad to lighten hearts in a time of deep trouble.

MR. BARUCH WRITES A LETTER

MR. BERNARD BARUCH must have meant to influence the financial negotiations between the British government and our own. That much is clear, not from the contents of his letter to Representative Gore of Tennessee, but from the fact that he chose the time he did to publish it. For just in these days the negotiations are at that delicate and critical point where the question is whether the Socialist government of Great Britain will agree, in return for a dollar loan, to make the attempt, which is difficult and full of risk, to re-establish the free international markets which our government desires.

It is still uncertain whether the views of the two governments can be reconciled. If they are not, the western world, already gravely divided from the Soviet Union, will be divided within itself. Thus the failure of Britain and America to agree on a common regime of international trade for the democracies would be a shattering blow to the unity and stability of the world.

MR. BARUCH expresses no concern about all this, and as a matter of fact his letter could hardly have been more subtly contrived to wreck the negotiations and prevent a reconciliation of the British and American views. For it incites those very suspicions on both sides of the Atlantic which stand in the way of a constructive compromise—namely, the American fear of being rooked into giving away our patrimony to foreigners, and the British fear of becoming subservient debtors of the United States.

The effect is all the more destructive in that the letter intervenes by indirection and insinuation rather than by a straightforward and explicit statement of what its author thinks should and should not be done.

Mr. Baruch is concerned—judging by his letter—with two aspects of foreign lending. The one is that we shall not extend credits which enable foreigners to buy more goods in our markets than we are able to produce for export. This would aggravate inflation. The other is that we shall not finance other countries "to nationalize their industries against us." This might "destroy our own competitive system." If that is all there is to say on these two subjects, the conclusion is very simple. Make no foreign loans; then by one master stroke we shall prevent foreigners from inflating prices in our markets and from nationalizing their industries against us.

BUT OBVIOUSLY, there is a lot more to be said on these subjects than Mr. Baruch has said. One is that while large foreign credits can, if their use is undirected and uncontrolled, aggravate inflation, the stoppage of foreign purchases by refusing credits would certainly prevent the kind of full production which alone can prevent inflation. If Mr. Baruch knows any way, given the existing structure of the American economy, by which production can be maintained at a high level without very substantial exports, he knows something that no one else knows. It is, therefore, grossly misleading to talk as if foreign lending were a form of national sacrifice and charity when in fact it is a national necessity. Yet in this letter that is exactly how Mr. Baruch talks, as if lending itself must be presumed to be an evil rather than a good.

Mr. Baruch's remarks on the relation between American credits and the nationalization of industry abroad are hardly what might reasonably have been expected from an elder statesman. They are based on the assumption that the United States can by the use of credit control the policies of foreign government. The assumption is as untrue as it is dangerous.

FOR MR. BARUCH is supposing that with American credit Socialist governments abroad will be better able to nationalize industries than without American credit. But, on the contrary, the more these foreign countries with their Socialist governments are isolated from the markets of the outer world and forced to rely upon their own resources, the more stringent and total will be their collectivism. It is clear that Mr. Baruch has not understood that in Great Britain it is the advanced Socialists in league with the advanced imperialists who do not want Bretton Woods, who do not want the American loan. Why? Because the Socialists want a closed economy which can be planned and regulated, because the imperialists want to bind the Empire together even if they have to have state collectivism to do it.

Mr. Baruch simply does not know what is going on in the world if he imagines that he can stop European Socialism by threatening to withhold American credit. The threat itself will only provoke Europeans to go faster and farther toward planned self-sufficiency within a closed system which American business men and financiers cannot interfere with. The withholding of credit, or offering it on conditions which are political and ideological rather than economic and business-like, can only make collectivism a certainty. For in a state of economic siege or blockade within confined regions of the world, there can be little or no free and competitive enterprise.

WE ARE NOW the most conservative of the great powers. It is far from being an easy position to hold. We shall need for ourselves and for the principles we believe in, wisdom in affairs. We shall need a greater wisdom than the primitive notion that we can sit on our wealth and grow rich, or that being rich we can buy anything, including the souls of our fellow men, that we choose to pay for.

Bawl out the judge who is lenient to black market tax dodgers. You pay the tax they dodge, and the judge helps soak you.

The INTERNATIONAL SCENE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

A fellow commuter this morning turned from the headlines in his newspaper and asked me in predawn, sepulchral tones' "Well, when will the next war come—in about five years?"

I wasn't feeling so good myself, because the train was late, but that pessimistic query put me on the alert. My reply was that while there are very real dangers to be overcome, there is no sound reason why these shouldn't be met successfully. I believe that, too.

Our present international difficulties are mild compared with what might have developed from such a cataclysm as that through which the world has just passed. Not only is the world physically torn in many places, but its whole politico-economic structure is undergoing vast change.

REALIGNMENTS WATCHED

Great powers—Germany, Italy, Japan — have disappeared and there is an inevitable realignment of spheres of influence which are causing heart-burning. Foreign Secretary Bevin, speaking in the British House of Commons yesterday, said the great difficulty in achieving international cooperation rests in "whether or not you can entirely obliterate what are called spheres of influence and power politics." He added:

"Sometimes in these negotiations — I make the confession—power politics seems to me to be naked and unashamed."

The quickest way to overcome this evil is the employment of frankness among countries, and Mr. Bevin sounded this note when he appealed to the great powers to "really put the cards on the table face upwards." While naming no names, the Foreign Minister hinted Britain was suspicious of Russia's territorial demands. He put it this way:

"You cannot help being a little but suspicious if a great power wants to go right across the throat of the British Commonwealth."

That's putting the cards on the table face unwards.

We have had quite a lot of cards faced up so far this week. Foreign Minister Molotov started it in his Moscow address Tuesday when he condemned the tendency towards formation of a bloc of western European powers, and asked that all the secrets in connection with the manufacture of the atomic bomb be placed at Russia's disposal.

Former Prime Minister Churchill also turned up some cards in the House of Commons debate on foreign affairs yesterday. He said Russia would not share the secrets of the atomic bomb if she alone had them, and urged Prime Minister Attlee not to press the United States during the forthcoming conference in Washington to divulge details.

MEMORIAL ARENA

It is nice to see that the Victoria ice arena has some chance of being built. According to reports, the arena is going to be second to none in Canada and that is only proper, as Victoria City is second to none in Canada.

What I can't understand, and many taxpayers are of the same opinion, why build a beautiful building on a plot of ground where it can't be seen, and especially a memoral to our men that made it possible for us to have an arena.

There is lots of room in the park on the corner of Douglas and Dallas Road, and it also provides good parking space. Then the visitors coming in on the boats would see our memorial to the men that gave their lives for us. We are proud of them and not ashamed to show the world a memorial to them.

Miss Ellen Hart Opens Bazaar

The bazaar held by the Daughters of St. George in the Sons of England Hall, Wednesday afternoon was opened by Miss Ellen Hart, who as head of the hospitality committee, has worked with the ladies of the order in arranging entertainments and parties for the services during the war years.

She was introduced by Mrs. R. Williams, president of the lodge, and presented with a bouquet of chrysanthemums.

In the evening a card party and dance was held at which 75 returned men and repats were honored guests. The proceeds for the afternoon and evening amounted to approximately $400.

White chrysanthemums in low silver vases, flanked with small red candles in silver holders, decorated the head tea table presided over by Mrs. M. J. Hodnett, district deputy president of the lodge, and Mrs. R. Williams, the president. Teacup readings were given by Mrs. J. Mallows.

Special guests during the tea hour included Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A.-elect; Mrs. F. A. Raines, president of Lodge No. 238; Mrs. W. Restall, provincial district deputy; Mrs. W. Lang, president of the hospitality committee, and Mrs. Alfred Dowell.

What's New Around the Home

Inexpensive "Original" — Try your hand at reproducing one of the colorful new scarfs embroidered with sparkling sequins. First, purchase a pretty babushka and a few yards of single string sequins in matching tints. Then sew on the sequins, carefully following the original design both in line and color.

For Sparkling Diamond—To keep that diamond ring brilliant clean it from time to time with a solution of three parts of hot water to one part of ammonia. Soak a short while, then scrub gently with a small soft brush, rinse and drain dry.

Dog Lovers Note!—Or wives of same. Dog hairs can be easily removed from husbands and upholstered furniture. Wind your hand with a wide band of adhesive tape, sticky side out, and go to it.

The New Neckline—The "good, little black dress" that you reserve for stepping out importantly, just has to have a new peep-in neckline this season. You take your choice between something fixed up with lace and ribbon, and something airy with slits or holes. Two cut-outs, plus the V, make a lovely neckline, all three openings being substantially faced. The lace touch ranks high among the new peep-through ideas; the lower edge ribbon blacks out its transparency.

Dont Like Turnips?—Try them this way, as a main dish. Hollow out raw, round white turnips and fix them so they will stand like cups. Parboil; drain; stuff with a well-seasoned hash made of left-over meat and vegetables; then set to bake till tender in a pan, pouring in consomme to half the height of the turnips. Sprinkle crumbs, plus a few tiny pieces of butter on top.

Highsteppers Warned—Throw out the pancake make-up, girls, junk the powder and paint. You, too, can be beautiful by simply taking off those high-heeled shoes and tromping around in a nice square-toed pair of oxfords. High French heels and backless shoes show in your face when you wear them, according to the findings of a doctors' convention held recently. They throw the feet off balance, strain the muscles, play havoc with the back, torture the feet—all of which affects your face.

Safety First—Avoid carrying loads so big you cannot see where you are going. Before taking medicine, read the label carefully. Don't touch electric switches or electric appliances while any part of your body is wet. Keep safety catch on washing machine in good working order and be sure you know how to use it. Keep halls and stairs well lighted and free from boxes, toys, mops, brooms and other tripping hazards.

Material Shower For Children's Aid

The ladies auxiliary of the Children's Aid Society held a successful material shower and tea, Wednesday afternoon, in the Y.W.C.A.

Materials and garments received, including baby clothes, blankets, wool and flannelette, amounted to $100. The largest single donation was 100 yards of flannelette, sent by Mr. and Mrs. Mayo of Duncan. Money donations received during the afternoon amounted to $128.90.

Mrs. C. L. Bosdet, president of the auxiliary, assisted by Miss Rae Kirkendale of the Children's Aid Society, received the guests at the door. Mrs. George Alexander was general convener for the afternoon.

An apron stall was presided over by Mrs. C. F. Wharton and Mrs. G. Brown. Novelties were sold by Mrs. D. Whyte, Mrs. S. Childs and Mrs. G. H. Bissell. A display arranged by the Department of Health was in charge of Mrs. J. Young. Materials and garments were checked by Mrs. F. Mawhinney and Mrs. A. E. James.

During the afternoon a program was presented, including solos by Mrs. R. H. Nash, accompanied by Mrs. H. Kirby and Mrs. H. Black, accompanied by Mrs. D. Whyte.

Tea was served from a lace-covered table decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and white tapers in crystal holders. Presiding were Mrs. P. E. George, Mrs. R. H. McInnes, Mrs. Norman Whittaker and Mrs. G. Kirkendale. Assisting in serving were the Misses Betty Ralfs, Muriel Anderson, Joyce Applegate, June Dunn, Mary Frances and Zelda Blackie. In charge of refreshments were Mrs. J. Moss, assisted by Mrs. O. F. Anderson, Mrs. H. Black and Mrs. J. Reid.

Serve Many Repats

At present the canteen at the Y.M.C.A. is serving tea and refreshments to some 50 to 75 repatriates daily, and assistance is needed in this work, it was reported at the last meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the "Y." Members were asked to bring cakes and other refreshments to the canteen. Proceeds of the recent bridge were $132.79, it was reported. The annual meeting will be held Dec. 4 at the home of Mrs. Fred Pollard., president, Gillespie Place, and Mrs. Edwin Tomlin, Mrs. D. A. McAdie and Mrs. J. V. Johnson were elected as a nominating committee. Final plans were made for the membership tea, Nov. 15.

$250 Cleared At Colfax Bazaar

At the afternoon bazaar held by the Colfax Rebekah Lodge No. 1 in the I.O.O.F. Hall Wednesday afternoon, $250 was cleared for the work of the order.

Mrs. E. Farquhar, district deputy president, declared the affair opened promptly at 2.30 in the presence of a record crowd that filled the big upstairs room. She was introduced by the noble grand, Mrs. E. Cave, and presented with a corsage bouquet of carnations.

Afternoon tea was served from a table centred with mauve and white chrysanthemums and tall red candles in silver holders. Presiding were Miss F. Porter, past noble grand of Carne Rebekah Lodge and Mrs. Bruce Shaver, vice-grand of Colfax Lodge. Mrs. R. H. Nash sang three solos accompanied by Mrs. M. Silver. General convener for the afternoon was Mrs. H. A. Blackburn.

WIFE AND OTHER WOMAN

Dear Miss Dix: My husband, whom I still love, tells me that he is madly in love with another woman and that there is no longer any excitement or thrill left in our marriage. However, because of our children he has decided to end this affair and, in a meeting he arranged between this other woman and myself he told her that before both of us, but I realize only two well that she is determined to exert all of her charms to keep him.

She is wise in the ways of men and knows all the approaches. I, being the wife, am at a terrible disadvantage. She holds all the cards. What shall I do?

ALICE.

Answer: You are wrong in thinking that the other woman holds all the cards. She doesn't. You have the trump card in the children, as is proven by your husband breaking off with this woman for their sake. Play that discreetly and you will win out.

WIFE HAS WHIP HAND

There is one point that wives overlook too often, and that is that while their husbands may be fascinated, for the time being, by the tricks and artifices of the women whose game is stalking married men, they really see through them and after a bit they pall upon them. For middle-aged married man to try to keep up with a young girl is like trying to eat caviar and champagne for breakfast. His stomach cries out for good home cooking, and he is glad enough to come back to the woman he respects and really loves, and the kids.

When a man is so infatuated with a glamour girl that he wants to break up his home and part from his children and get a divorce from his wife, the case is desperate. But when he wants to keep his home together and keep his children from finding out about his philandering, the wife has, at least, a good fighting chance to get him back if she only play her cards well and realize that he is just suffering from a brainstorm and that she can nurse him through it, just as she would if he had an attack of the flu.

But to do that she has to wipe her eyes and ease weeping and quit reproaching him or talking about the other woman, and make home a comfortable, jolly place, instead of a wailing wall.

Migrating Geese Visit Swan Lake

Rested after a pause at Swan Lake, a large flock of wild geese Took off Tuesday afternoon. Residents at the lake who said the birds were Canada Geese, estimated there were more than 100 of them. Led by a gander—possibly a veteran of several annual visits here—and honking as they circled the lake, the travelers from the north made an interesting spectacle for beholders as their great V formation swept up and set a course for the south.

Swan Lake has been a stopping point for other flocks of wild geese in the last week or two.

Labor Council Here To Sponsor Union For Unemployed

A union of unemployed with an [illegible] of securing jobs for unorganized workers will be sponsored by the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, it was decided Wednesday night.

The decision to form a union for unorganized workers "so that they might have greater organization for securing employment and other conditions necessary" followed a lengthy outline by C. Chivers, member of the Selective Service Advisory Committee on unemployment in Victoria.

The council's secretary was instructed to write Premier John Hart that the council favors retaining Hon. George S. Pearson as Minister of Labor and Provincial Secretary. This decision followed a discussion in which delegates expressed the opinion Mr. Pearson is a necessity in both portfolios.

(For health reasons and the expanding duties of the minister in both departments, it has been rumored that Mr. Pearson might relinquish the labor portfolio to devote all his time to social service.)

W. Bergstrom was seated as a delegate for the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders.

W. Caird was delegated to attend a meeting called by the Victoria Nursery School Association to discuss raising money for a bursary to assist a student to go to the Institute of Child Study, University of Toronto, for training in nursery school leadership.

Reporting on the meeting last week of E. P. Murphy, Deputy Minister of Public Works, Ottawa, and his engineers, with members of the City Council harbor committee and delegates of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council and Victoria Chamber of Commerce George Wilkinson said that although nothing definite had come about in the meeting it was a step forward to the goal of having Victoria's harbor requirements recognized.

Mr. Wilkinson commended the presentations made at the meeting by Maj. H. C. Holmes and Walter Miles of the Chamber of Commerce. He emphasized that the plans would involve a great deal of money to institute.

Grocers Protest Closing Violations

Independent grocers of Greater Victoria at a meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada in Empress Hotel Wednesday evening, decided to take up with police the matter of violations of evening and Wednesday closing by-laws.

G. R. Matthews, provincial secretary of the association, was appointed to deal with it.

An advisory committee to the provincial executive to represent Victoria retail grocers was elected, and included T. G. Crawford, H. G. Adams, G. Wellburn, N. J. Greig, R. J. Wood, E. Silburn, J. Gordon and K. Ghent.

Mr. Matthews told the meeting the Dominion government had been asked to wait for substitute legislation of the provinces before rescinding consumer credit rules.

An outline of the association's campaign for store modernization, and a plan for joint work by grocers and wholesalers in decreasing overhead, were given by W. C. Brown, provincial chairman of the grocers' division.

No Pond Skating, Says Weatherman

Skating enthusiasts were given little encouragement from the weatherman today who predicted the cold weather would not last.

In fact he was quite certain there would not be a sign of frost tonight and instead warmer temperature with rain drizzle.

Ice skaters who awoke this morning to a 25-degree temperature, brought out those new skates and forgot about the proposed arena for a minute or two.

"But they'd better start concentrating on the arena again," advised the weatherman, "because the prospects for outdoor skating are slim."

West Coast Gets Increased Publicity

Recent appointment of Ross Beesley as western newsreel representative for Associated Screen News has brought B.C. events into the newsreels prominently.

Appearing recently was the safety award to Fraser Mills for an outstanding record during the past year. Canadian repats arriving at Victoria from Hongkong appeared in most reels as did the visit of the aircraft carrier H.M.S. Implacable to Vancouver.

Coming up are stories on the arrival of Canada's own H.M.C.S. Prince Robert at Esquimalt, the chrysanthemum exhibition of the Vancouver society and the world record shipment of eggs from New Westminster.

Chevrolet Announces Its 1946 Model

The new 1946 Chevrolet with its new styling features and mechanical improvements is a completely new car when compared to prewar models. Appearance highlights of GM's enty in low-price field include a new radiator grille, deeper bumpers and more widely spaced headlights. These give the Stylemaster Sedan, shown above, the appearance of ruggedness, while the door-action fenders maintain a handsome streamlined effect from front to rear. Cast alloy pistons, scientific cooling and a balanced fuel system ensure economical operation. Unitized Knee Action and shock-proof steering provide maximum comfort.

Monday Holiday By Provincial Order

Next Monday, Nov. 12 will be observed as a provincial holiday but not as a Dominion holiday.

Schools, provincial government buildings, shops and factories, including the shipyards, which come under the factories act and the shops regulation act of the provincial government, will be closed all day.

In Dominion government office buildings, H.M.C. Dockyard, banks and other groups of employees controled by Dominion laws will work as usual.

A provincial holiday was declared some time ago for Nov. 12 by order-in-council, because Nov. 11, usually observed as Remembrance Day, fell on a Sunday.

In a statement issued Tuesday by State Secretary Paul Martin in Ottawa, he called for two minutes' silence througout Canada at 11 Sunday morning, local time, in remembrance of those who died while serving in the First and Second Great Wars.

Not Seeking Re-election

Councillor George Austin, Ward 4, Saanich, announced Tuesday night he would retire from public life at the end of the year. He expressed thanks to the ratepayers for having supported him for the past nine years.

B.C. Travel Bureau's Movie of Cariboo For Release Soon

The B.C. Travel Bureau's film of the Cariboo, depicting tourist attractions in the interior, is expected to be released for public showing here this month, Clarence R. D. Ferris, B.C. government photographer, just back after a six-month tour of the province, said today.

The 16-millimetre film in color and with sound is now in the east for processing and is expected back in Victoria about Nov. 15.

Another film of the series will probably be ready for preview next spring. It is also a 16-millimetre color and sound film, of the Okanagan fruit country, its industries, local color and tourist attractions.

These films, along with a reel of the Kootenays, shooting for which was started last year and which was completed this summer by Mr. Ferris and his assistant, R. L. Colby, are built along the lines of a film on Vancouver Island released a couple of years ago by the B.C. Travel Bureau.

The films are designed for showing in Canada, the United States and Great Britain to induce tourists to visit British Columbia.

The "sounding" of the films is done in the east and because of the wartime priorities of other films the date at which the B.C. Travel Bureau films will be returned is indefinite.

Since last May when Mr. Ferris and Mr. Colby started their tour they have shot 3,800 feet of 16-millimetre film, most of it on three pictures. Beside the shots of the Kootenays for that travelogue, the movie photographers toured the provincially-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway and mining camps and operations throughout the province.

The P.G.E. film shows the tourist attractions of the interior of the province through which the railway operates.

Designed to induce young men to enter the mining industry, "Mining of B.C." will emphasize the recreation facilities, local color and living conditions as well as mining operations on the surface and underground in B.C. metal and coal mines.

For depicting these operations Mr. Ferris and Mr. Colby went more than a mile underground at Britannia Mines and at Bralorne they recorded the casting of a $30,000 gold brick.

On his return to Victoria Mr. Ferris shot the loading of the freighter Columbia Star at New Westminster. The ship was loading 34,000,000 eggs for Britain—the largest single egg shipment attempted in any port of the world. The vessel is also loading frozen beef at New Westminster. Shortly it will move to Vancouver to complete loading eggs before sailing about the middle of the month for Britain via the Panama Canal.

P.G.E. Committee To Resume Study

First session of the committee of experts studying the proposed extension of the provincially-owned Pacific Great Eastern railway and development of the northeastern part of the province was concluded at the Parliament Buildings Tuesday night.

Members of the committee left for their home Tuesday night on the midnight boat. The committee, appointment of which was announced by Premier John Hart, had opened discussions here Oct. 28, adjourned last Wednesday to tour the railway from Squamish to Quesnel, and reconvened at the Parliament Buildings last Monday.

Purpose of the committee's meetings was to survey the numerous surveys for extension of the railway and development of the province.

The committee will continue study here Dec. 10 if tentative arrangements made before adjournment are carried out, said J. M. Stewart, provincial deputy minister of railways, who is serving as committee chairman.

May Strike If Police Used at Windsor

Plans were under way today to call a Victoria-wide strike, if police are used in the dispute between the United Automobile Workers of America (C.I.O.) and the Ford Motor Co. of Canada, at Windsor, Ont.

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council Wednesday night, taking the lead of the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council, decided to suggest to local unions that if police are used in the Windsor strike, they urge their men to stage a one-day walk-out.

The council also authorized that communication be made with the Canadian Congress of Labor's Victoria Labor Council suggesting similar action for C.C.L. unions in Victoria.

Already the Victoria unions have approved contributions to the Windsor strike committee to assist the strikers.

At the Wednesday night meeting the Trades and Labor Council here also authorized Fred Bevis, R. McLaughlin and J. Frampton to attend the meeting tonight at the Victoria Chamber of Commerce auditorium at which the Ford strike will be discussed by members of the strike committee.

H. Thayer told the council that the Veteran-Labor consultative committee had received factual information on the Windsor strike which would be placed before the legion.

Tenders for fire insurance on new schools and additions in Saanich are being sought by the School Board. Bids must be in not later than Nov. 19.

FORECASTING a bright future for basketball in the Pacific Northwest this winter Tim McCulloch, well-known Seattle referee, paid a flying visit to Victoria Tuesday. While in town Tim went into conference with Ivan Temple, secretary of the Victoria league, and Dave Nicol, manager of the Dominoes, relative to lining up a series of international battles between the number one local outfit and Washington squads. Tim had to hurry back to Seattle as he faces a busy week-end officiating at football games. "I am scheduled to work a game a day from Thursday through to Sunday and if you don't think it's tough work just try and match some of those high school footballers running 30 or 40 yards to a touchdown," McCulloch said. "That's why I'm cutting out the cigarettes for a few weeks in an effort to get into shape."

McCULLOCH predicted that Seattle Alpine Dairy, long a top-ranking cage club in the northwest and several times a participant in the United States A.A.U. tournament at Denver, would be back again this year with another powerful club. Manager Tommy Werner has already lined up such ranking performers as Jack and Bobby Voelker, Johnny Katica, Willy Hilton, Jackie O'Neill and Arnie Reed. McCulloch told me that two well-known Seattle cagers, Ed Loverich and Bill Chase have received their discharges from the services and will be available for play this season. Seattle Coast Guard will have a strong club again this year while Fort Lewis will again build a team around the brilliant Gale Bishop. Other strong clubs will be located at Tacoma, Bremerton and Everett, which means that the local league should have no trouble locating first-class competition for the Dominoes in exhibition games.

QUESTIONED about the new pro league, recently organized in Seattle to take in clubs from all over the northwest McCulloch was not very enthusiastic. "The backers of the pro league have plenty of financial support but are not going the right way to set up the league on a sound business basis," he said. "From all indications the league will operate for a year or so and then fold up with the boys who are putting up the money going for a fall. Right now any youngsters who might have a chance to play collegiate ball are being warned not to sign up with the pros. I understand the Dominoes have been approached to play in the circuit and my advice to them is to steer clear as they have too much to lose and little to gain by participating in such a set-up."

IT'S ON its way at last apparently, that international postwar boom in hockey which ice officials in Canada have been predicting in the late war years. In London this week, Harold Davis of Wembly Stadium, said major British hockey organizations will send special representatives to Canada this winter to scout and negotiate for players in anticipation of resumption of British league play the season of 1946-47. The only difference now is that these scouts will have to deal with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. No longer will British teams be able to pick up star players just by tendering fat, juicy contracts.

New Westminster Beats Seattle In Coast Hockey

SEATTLE, Wash. (CP) — New Westminster Royals elevated themselves to third place in the northern division of the Coast Hockey League when they edged Seattle Ironmen 2 to 1 here last night.

The defending champion Ironmen, who started the season with two wins to set the early pace, now dwell in the cellar.

Vancouver Canucks have a commanding lead on the initial spot, and Portland Eagles hold down second place.

Walt Dorohoy, Royals' centre, opened the scoring towards the end of the first period, and Seattle were held scoreless.

Ironmen evened the count at 1 to 1 on Ken Stanton's counter early in the middle session, but New Westminster fought hard for the winning counter, which came five minutes before game-time on Willie Schmidt's goal.

Seattle will attempt to climb back into third place when they meet Portland Eagles in the Rose City tonight.

SUMMARY

First period — 1, New West minster, Dorohoy, 16.49. Penalty: None.

Second period—2, Seattle, Stanton (Coombs, S. Bentley), 8.33. Penalties: Tomson, Jenkins, R. Bentley.

Third period — 3, New Westminster, Schmidt (Koch), 5.44. Penalties: Evers, Love.

$1,000,000 Arena For Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—H. M. Singer, Vancouver theatre owner, said Wednesday plans are under way to build a $1,000,000 sports arena on the site of the Denman Arena destroyed by fire in 1936.

He said the arena will be patterned after Madison Square Garden and will have a seating capacity of 10,000.

Singer said he has purchased the Denman site from Lester Patrick for $80,000. Construction would start as soon as materials are available.

Western Grid Final Set

Calgary Invades 'Peg

WINNIPEG (CP)—After almost two weeks of stormy controversy over western Canada football playoff dates and financial arrangements, the kinks have been ironed out, and Calgary Stampeders will entrain tomorrow for the final with Winnipeg Blue Bombers here Saturday. The winner will play the eastern Canada champs for the Grey Cup in Toronto Dec. 1.

Four different figures entered into the discussions between Calgary and Winnipeg pivoted at N. J. (Piffles) Taylor, W.C.R.U. president, in Regina. Stampeders finally accepted the offer of $1,000 guarantee, with another $500 after the game expenses have been paid. The balance will be shared equally by the two teams.

In spite of the heavy snowfall here yesterday a moderately fast field was expected with not too much snow and the air brisk and cold. Temperature was in the 20's today and expected to drop lower.

Johnny Petersen, manager of Osborne Stadium, said he won't know till Friday whether the game will have a sellout crowd of about 4,800, although advance sale is "pretty good."

Dean Griffing's Calgary squad, which made a late entry into the western football picture, will bring here an impressive but brief record in their first season since 1940. They took part in three games, all with Regina Roughriders, and had only one point scored against them in chalking up 12 to 0, 3 to 1 and 12 to 0 victories.

TOUGH CLUB

Stampeders have a big, tough ball club, with more than a dozen well-tried veterans including Paul Rowe, Jerry Searight, Bob Harrison, Jim Gilkes and Jack Hobbs. Quarterback Bill Wusyk has provided some star performances and is an ever-present forward passing threat.

Calgary's line-smashing stalwarts, who have picked up the major part of the team's yardage, will run into tough opposition in the Winnipeg line.

In the backfield, Bombers are dangerous in every department, as has been shown in six victories in exhibition games including a 22 to 0 win against Regina Roughriders. They went down to defeat once.

All-Canadian Ches McCance has been the key man in scoring plays and was the leading team scorer with 43 points including six touchdowns. McCance at flying wing, a change from his position at end in former years, has been on the receiving end of a large number of Bomber passes, and has done most of the place-kicking.

Lloyd Bovin hit top form in the final few games of the season and along with Jim Foubister, Danny Summers, Nate Shore, Ken Draper and Harry Beckwith presents a powerful backfield.

Tom Lawton Sold For Big Sum to Chelsea

LONDON (CP) — Tom Lawton, usually described as the best centre-forward of the past 20 years, was sold to the Chelsea Club for between $40,000 and $56,000, today, in one of the biggest deals in the history of British soccer.

The exact price was not disclosed, either by Chelsea or by the Everton club, which Lawton joined 10 years ago, when he was 17. Lawton is still in the British army, and not due for demobilization until next June.

Leafs Beaten Again

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs, shaded 4 to 3 by Boston Bruins in their fourth straight National Hockey League defeat, planned a drastic shake-up in an effort to shake their losing streak in tonight's game against the Red Wings at Detroit.

After Don Gallinger's third-period goal gave Bruins an uphill triumph before 12,582 fans in Maple Leaf Gardens last night coach Happy Day announced youthful Gordie (Tinkie) Bell would replace Aldege (Baz) Bastien in the Toronto nets for the Detroit game. Doug Baldwin, Winnipeg defenceman who played last year for Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior League, will be inserted in the Toronto line-up at defence.

Bell was a teen-aged sensation with Buffalo Bisons of the American League before joining the Canadian navy.

Coach Day, whose Stanley Cup champions have tied one and lost four in their five 1945-46 starts, said the change does not necessarily mean Leafs are dissatisfied with the play of Bastien, who became an emergency replacement when Frank McCool differed with Leafs over salary terms.

KID LINE STARS

Boston's kid line trio of Gallinger, Armand (Bep) Guidolin and Bill Shill, reunited after war service scattered their ranks, shared honors in a victory which lifted Boston into third place ahead of Detroit.

Guidolin scored the first Boston goal in the first period on a Gallinger relay and then combined with Shill to set Gallinger up for the winning score at 13.23 of the third period. Veteran defenceman Jack Crawford scored the second Boston goal and Woody Dumart clicked for the third—first scoring point for Boston's Kitchener line since Dumart, Milt Schmidt and Bobby Bauer came back to hockey after three years in the R.C.A.F.

Bauer, right wing for the N.H.L.'s great prewar attacking combination, missed last night's game because of an injury.

Billy Taylor and Gaye Stewart, slowly finding their skating legs, bagged goals for Toronto in the first period to give Leafs a 2 to 1 edge which Boston overhauled in the second period. Down 3 to 2 entering the third, Leafs tied the score when Lorne Carr, veteran Toronto right wing from Calgary, counted the 200th goal of his N.H.L. career early in the session. Then came Gallinger's goal to seal the verdict.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Toronto, Taylor (Schriner), 4.16; 2, Toronto, Stewart (Ezinicki), 6.14; 3, Boston, Guidolin (Gallinger), 16.26 Penalties: Ezinicki 2, Gallinger, Guidolin.

Second period—4, Boston, Crawford (Cowley), 5.18; 5, Boston, Dumart (Schmidt), 10.59. Penalties: Gallinger, Goldham.

Third period—6, Toronto, Carr (Schriner), 2.22; 7, Boston, Gallinger (Guidolin, Shill), 13.23 Penalty: Church.

Varcity Gridders Beat Alberta

Reg Clarkson Brilliant

VANCOUVER (CP)—The University of British Columbia Thunderbirds will carry a four-point lead into the final game of the Hardy Cup competition here tomorrow.

Led by Phil Guman, who scored two touchdowns, and hefty Reg Clarkson of Victoria, who crossed the line for one touchdown, kicked two converts and added another brace of points on rouges, the Thunderbirds defeated University of Alberta Golden Bears 19 to 3 here last night in the second game of the western Canada intercollegiate senior football championship.

Alberta won the first game on their home grounds, 12 to 0, last week.

Playing on a frost hardened field, the Thunderbirds jumped into a first quarter lead and were never headed. Guman went over for first marker after a forward pass and an onside kick put Vancouver team in scoring position. Clarkson split the uprights for the conversion to put the U.B.C. in front 6 to 0.

Clarkson set up the next tally on a forward pass and an end run which sent the B.C. team to the Bears' five-yard line.

GUMAN OVER AGAIN

Quarter time intervened and the resumption saw the Thunderbirds go over on the second play of the quarter on a line buck by Guman. Clarkson's convert try was wide, to make the score 11 to 0. The Bears broke into the scoring column on a nice field goal by Bill Ingram from 25 yards out, which made the score 11 to 3. A few minutes later Alberta's Bob Freeze was crushed under by a swarm of Thunderbirds for a rouge to put Vancouver in front 12 to 3 at the halfway marker.

The third quarter saw the B.C. team go further into the lead when Freeze was smeared again behind his own line for another rouge. The teams fought on an even basis for the rest of the period as the Albertans put on an improved display.

U.B.C. put themselves up in total points as Clarkson took a kick on his own 25-yard line and ran the ball back to Bears' 35-yard line. Four more plays and Clarkson cut over tackle to score standing up. He converted to make the score 19 to 3.

The addition of Clarkson may have been the difference between victory and defeat for the Thunderbirds as he averaged 41 yards on his kicks to keep his team out of serious trouble.

Haegg, Andersson Now Rate As Professionals

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Arne Andersson and Gunder Haegg, world-record holding Swedish runners, and 13 other top-ranking Swedish track stars, were declared professionals today by the Swedish Athletic Association, the newspaper Expressen said.

There was no official announcement yet from the association, which has been conducting a sweeping investigation into the entire Swedish track set-up.

Earlier the association announced a finding that payments of fees to top Swedish track stars by leading sports clubs constituted a breach of amateur regulations and indicated there would be disciplinary measures against both clubs and performers. The association did not name the individuals involved, and had announced it would not do so until completion of the inquiry.

A finding that Andersson is professional would cancel his projected trip to the United States for the indoor season this winter.

MAY LOOSE RECORDS

Swedish sports writers said that classing Haegg and Andersson as professionals might also place some of their records in jeopardy.

The far-reaching inquiry brought an admission by leaders of Stockholm's biggest sports clubs that fees had been paid top-ranking track stars during the past five years as inducements to participate in track events.

Expressen listed these stars, besides Haegg and Andersson, as having been adjudged professional: Lennart Strandberg, Sweden's best sprinter; Hans Liljeqvist, Lars Nilsson, Tore Tillman, Sven Malmberg, Sven Ljungren, Nehry Kaelarne, Aake Spaangert, Bror Hellstroem, Rune Persson, Rune Gustafsson, Eric Elmsaeter and Goesta Jacobsson.

Nanaimo Clippers Win Junior Hockey

VANCOUVER (CP)—Nanaimo Clippers are today sitting on top of the young Pacific Coast Junior Hockey League by virtue of a 4 to 3 victory over Vancouver White Spots here last night.

The win was Clippers second in as many starts, having defeated New Westminster Cubs in the league opener at New Westminster last Saturday.

The invading Nanaimo squad piled up a neat 2 to 0 lead in the first period when White Spots played ragged hockey, obviously suffering first-start shakes.

The first period was marred by the removal from the game of young Rod McLeod of the Vancouver team, who suffered a broken arm.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mrs. Bernadine Cooper Tuesday filed suit for divorce against Mort Cooper, star pitcher for Boston Braves.

In her petition filed in suburban Clayton, Mrs. Cooper alleged that the baseball star had so changed that he showed no love and little concern for the welfare of her and their eight-year-old son.

Trolley Coach Demonstration For City, Realtors Hear

A trolley coach, "safe, quick, well lit and warm," powered by an unlimited supply of electricity, will in a short time be put on a demonstration run in Victoria by the B.C. Electric Railway Company, H. Rowland Halls, traffic superintendent, told members of the Real Estate Board of Victoria at a luncheon, Wednesday, in the Douglas Hotel.

Titling his address: "Planning Public Transportation," Mr. Halls gave the background on the company proposals for a unified transportation system for Victoria. He contrasted the present "duplicating, wasteful system" with a modern, unified one, which would enable a person to go from one urban centre to another for one fare.

"In a very short time we hope to have a demonstration trolley coach riding in town. It is the finest type of transportation vehicle on the market today," Mr. Halls said. "It is the acknowledged leader in public transit systems."

He discussed routes, frequency of service, traffic characteristics, population distribution and the effect of re-routing on real estate values, adding that all were factors included in the study of a transit system. Accidents have decreased in cities when trolly coaches are in operation, he said.

"Ratio of automobile owners in Victoria is high, therefore routes must be as direct as possible. The public demands a fast ride, and we must endeavor to keep our running times to a minimum."

He referred to the "bottleneck" in traffic at Fort Street, and said that road conditions and need for avoiding traffic congestion all had a bearing on the company's proposals. Abandoning of an old route was only recommended where a new route would give better service, he said. Plans laid were flexible enough to take care of minor changes, he added, as he spoke of population distribution.

Discussing frequency of service, he said a person would rather have 10-minute service a block away from his home rather than two-hour service passing his door. Of the selection of vehicle types, Mr. Halls stated that the gas bus was recommended for new districts, with the trolley coach for the busier, more populated areas.

H. H. Black, camera operator with the B.C. Electric Railway Co., showed films of trolley coach operation in Cleveland and Toledo. Some 30 United States cities now have a trolley - coach system. Narrator of the film stated that the trolley coach provided from six to 10 times more light than the gas bus, offered greater safety, quicker getaway, and a smooth ride.

"An unlimited supply of electricity assures lots of heat, even in the coldest weather," he said.

E. F. Burton, president of the board, introduced Ralph B. Matthews, assistant to the vice-president of the B.C.E.R. Co., and E. F. Fox, public relations assistant. Hubert Lethaby, secretary, read a letter from J. D. Gunn of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, on rental control and subletting of residential property. Miss Margaret Scott represented the City Lands Department.

'Retain Pearson'; Delegation to See Premier John Hart

C.C.L. unions in Victoria today were planning to arrange a meeting with Premier John Hart to request the maintenance of Hon. George S. Pearson as provincial Minster of Labor.

This action followed a meeting Wednesday of a four-man delegation from the Victoria Local of the Boilermakers' and Iron Shipbuilders' Union and the Shipyard General Workers' Council with Mr. Pearson.

F. H. Dykes, secretary of the Boilermakers here and one of the delegation, said Mr. Pearson had expressed sympathey to the delegations requests but had emphasized the burden of his other work as Provincial Secretary. The delegation decided to try and see Mr. Hart after it had been informed by Mr. Pearson that the Premier was responsible for cabinet appointments.

Other members of the delegation were J. D. Smith, also representing the Boilermakers, and D. Fitzgerald and A. Mitchell, representing the Boilermakers and the Shipyard General Workers' council.

The move of the Boilermakers to have Mr. Pearson retained in his Labor portfolio has gained the support not only of other Victoria unions but of unions in Vancouver.

Wednesday night Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council delegates expressed the opinion that Mr. Pearson was a necessity as Minister of Labor and also as Provincial Secretary. Delegates instructed the council's secretary to write Premier Hart asking him to retain Mr. Pearson in both portfolios.

VANCOUVER BACKS MOVE

At a meeting in Vancouver, Wednesday night, John Turner, secretary of the Vancouver Labor Council (C.C.L.), described Mr. Pearson as "the best Labor Minister in the Dominion of Canada" and as "the best Labor Minister we have ever had in this province."

R. K. Gervin, secretary of the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.), said: "He did not know of anyone better fitted to take the labor post in this government. He is very highly thought of by labor."

Eileen Tallman, secretary of the sub-district council, United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.), said: "Speaking on behalf of the Steelworkers, we would very much regret to see him vacate the position."

For health reasons and because of the expected increased load of work with the postwar expansion of social services in British Columbia, it had been rumored Mr. Pearson would relinquish his labor portfolio to concentrate all his energy to the Provincial Secretary's department, which he also heads.

Mr. Pearson has been Minister of Labor since 1933.

B.C. Herring Fishing This Year Off to Best Start In History

B.C.'s herring fishing industry today was off to the best start in history, with the production to last week-end at 356,251 cases — almost 120,000 cases more than at the same time last year, according to George J. Alexander, assistant commissioner of fisheries.

Almost the total pack of the industry which expanded several fold in wartime, will go to the British Ministry of Foods and Unrra.

Of the 356,251 cases packed so far this year, 13,030 cases have been "talls" for Unrra, while 337,390 cases have been "ovals," and 5,831 cases have been "half ovals," both of which go to the British Ministry of Foods.

About one-third of the pack this year has been in tomato sauce. The remainder was plain pack.

As in other years, a small part of the pack will be retained for the domestic market, but Canadians, used to being able to purchase high-quality canned salmon, are not fond of canned herring, so that the domestic market is small.

To this date last year 238,429 cases had been packed, while in 1943 the herring pack at this time was 221,016 cases.

In 1941, before the wartime demand for canned herring had reached its present proportions, the pack to this approximate date had been only 80,493 cases.

The catch in district No. 3 has been 17,853 green tons to date, 12,075 tons coming from the lower east coast, 4,873 tons from the Quathiaski district, and 905 tons from the upper east coast.

Other products of the herring industry this year have been 157 tons of fresh herring and eight tons which have gone for bait.

Herring meal, so far this year, has totaled 217 tons, while herding offal meal has reached 653 tons. Herring meal is used to enrich cattle feeds.

Herring oil production, to date this year, has been 33,034 imperial gallons, while herring offal oil production is up to 129,567 gallons. The herring oil goes into the general pool of the federal fats and oils controller. Some of it is used in soap, while the remainder goes to numerous other outlets.

SALMON PACK

At the same time the chief supervisor of fisheries released totals on the herring pack, figures for the 1945 salmon season, which is almost at a close, were made available.

Total salmon pack this season has been 1,723,815 cases, compared with 1,094,855 cases at this time last year. The salmon pack, which early in the season was indicated might be the heaviest in 10 years, has dropped behind the 1942 and 1941 totals, chiefly because of the smallness of the chum catch.

The sockeye take in the Fraser River district this year was also down, bringing the total salmon pack down with it.

Pilchard production this year has fallen far behind the 1945 output to this date. So far the production has been 30,461 green tons, 5,286 tons of meal, 1,098,485 gallons of oil and 50,762 cases canned.

Cenotaph Service To Be Held Sunday

Veterans of the Second World War are expected to take a large part in the service at the Cenotaph in Parliament Square on Sunday morning at 11, when citizens of Victoria will gather to pay tribute to those who gave their lives in both world wars.

The annual ceremony at the cenotaph will be conducted by the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., in conjunction with the armed services.

Veterans, both men and women, wearing poppies and decorations, service personnel on discharge leave, and veterans of other Allied armed forces wearing service ribbons, will assemble at 10.15 on Humboldt Street between Douglas and Government Streets. Maj. George S. Yardley will arrange the company formations.

The parade will move off at 10.25 under command of Brig.-Gen. J. G. Austin, C.B., C.M.G., led by the Victoria Girls' Pipe Band, and organization standards. It will proceed by Government Street to Belleville Street and take up position on the driveway leading to the Legislative Buildings.

The Cenotaph ceremony will be conducted by Hon. Maj. the Rev. George H. Hamilton, senior Protestant chaplain of Vancouver Island. Capt. R. I. Agnew, O.B.E., R.C.N., will take the salute at the march past.

At the conclusion of the ceremony after the march past, wreaths may be placed on the war memorial.

Chairs will be provided for amputation cases and aged persons at the ceremony through the courtesy of the provincial government. Programs will be available on the street, and the proceedings will be carried over a public address system.

The two children are at present at the Acheson home, Vesuvius Lodge, at Ganges.

Theatre Executives See Themselves

Local members of the Famous Players Corporation 15-Year Club saw themselves in the technicolor motion picture taken of the 25th anniversary banquet held in Hotel Vancouver last January, at a luncheon here Wednesday, attended by L. Bearg, general manager for Western Canada for Famous Players, local officials and special guests.

A sound motion picture in technicolor of the 25th anniversary banquet of Famous Players, eastern division, at the York Hotel in Toronto, was also shown.

Mr. Bearg told the gathering that television may be operating in Victoria theatres within two years, and said that Famous Players, in collaboration with Paramount Pictures, have already spent $2,000,000 in television experiments. It was hoped that television would be in operation throughout Canada before 1948, Mr. Bearg said.

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., commended Famous Players Corporation on its operations here and throughout the country, and Acting Mayor Ed. Williams tendered the city's greetings and commented on the wholesome nature of the entertainment provided in local theatres.

Victoria members of the 25-Year Club, representing a quarter of a century's service with Famous Players, are J. M. Robertson, manager of the Capitol Theatre, and H. C. Edwards and William More, both projectionists at the Dominion Theatre.

Mr. Robertson presided at the luncheon.

THE TALKING CAR

AND I WAS IN VANCOUVER 2 TRY and get some lounges and a Chesterfield set. Now the weatherman should have told me B-4 I go, that I'm going 2 be up 2 my ears in snow. I took my little auto, it's English my dear, and thought I'm all set with nothing 2 fear. But that little buggy was built for soft English breezes, and ploughing up Granville really gave it the wheezes. And when for stalling the policeman gave me a ticket, the little car remarked, "Is this quite cricket?" Startled, I looked 2 see who was talking. "Yes, it's me," it cracked, "and yu should B walking." Now my life hasn't been too sheltered that's for sure, and I've heard of a talking dog or bird B-4. But never did I think I'd go so far, as 2 get the dickens from a talking car.

If this Chesterfield set could talk it would tell yu it's the best buy in town. Turquoise V-lure cover, channeled arms, beautifully carved show-wood facings. It's an English tub-shaped model—s'help me it's purr-fect—$249.

Unknown Amateur Leads Open Golf

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—An unsung amateur, Lieut. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, scored his second subpar round Wednesday to lead the professional aces at the halfway post in the north and south open golf tournament with 139.

While the first-day leaders, Benny Hogan of Hershy, Pa., and Denny Shute of Akron, O., blew themselves off the pace with 74's, the 24-year-old Tennessean fired a three-under par 69 to go with his 70 and grab a one-shot lead.

Hess Says He Is Fit

NUERNBERG, Germany (Reuter)—Rudolf Hess, Hitler's former deputy, Wednesday night was reported to have declared he was fit for trial as a war criminal, although specialist examination of his suspected loss of memory has been ordered.

Washington Power Purchase Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan to purchase the Puget Sound Power and Light Company system in western Washington is a "deal that stinks to high heaven," Representative Boren (Dem.-Okla.) declared Wednesday.

The Oklahoman quoted an article in the Washington State Grange News of Nov. 3 as saying the Office of Federal Power Commission Chairman Leland Olds was the scene of a recent discussion of purchase of the P.S.P. & L. system by public utilities districts in western Washington.

Boren said Dr. Paul Raver of the Bonneville Administration estimated the Puget Sound company value at $90,000,000 four years ago.

"Now," said Boren, chairman of the interstate commerce committee, there is "a Wall Street deal to pay $135,000,000 for it."

He said Raver participated in the conference with the utilities officials and with Olds, and "it would be interesting to learn if Dr. Raver has changed his mind on the value of the property.

Mr. Olds might well be asked if he initiated a conference under which the color of the blessing of the federal government would be put on this deal. It appears that Mr. Olds has attempted to sprinkle holy water on a deal that stinks to high heaven."

Olds was not available for comment.

Boren said his subcommittee intended to continue an inquiry into the Puget Sound transaction "which involves, in the chair's opinion, scandal from the standpoint of public interest."

210,000 Unemployed Australian Problem

SYDNEY (CP) — Australia today was confronted with widespread industrial unrest with 210,000 people out of work in New South Wales, and thousands more idle in South Australia, West Australia and Queensland.

In an endeavor to combat the mounting wave of strikes, the federal government has called an industrial conference to be held at Canberra in mid-December. Government, industry and workers will be represented.

The main cause of contention in the industrial scene is the 40-hour week, now uniform throughout Australia.

A special parliamentary committee, which has been considering the question for months, is understood to have concluded there is no authority justifying the Commonwealth legislation introducing the 40-hour week. The committee is expected to recommend extension of the conciliation system as a means of speeding up arbitration of disputes.

Dyer Confident Cards Will Have Great Ball Club

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Drawling Eddie Dyer, expressing pleasant surprise at being named manager of St. Louis Cardinals, says: "If all the kids come back and we don't make any mistakes in placing them, we'll be the club to beat next season in the National League."

The 45-year-old Dyer, former Cardinal minor league executive and one-time manager of Houston Buffs in the Texas League where he led the club home first three times in three seasons, declared: "It was a big surprise to me although I always have wanted to manage a big league club. I certainly am glad to get back into baseball."

For more than a year Dyer has been in the oil business in Houston, making enough, he grinned, "to pay all my bills."

Dyer succeeds Billy Southworth, who resigned to become manager of Boston Braves.

Dyer, who managed Houston in 1939, 1940 and 1941, producing such top-flighters as Howard Pollett, Ted Wilks, Howard Krist, Harry Brecheen, Johnny Hopp and Murray Dickson, also managed Rochester in the International League and Columbus in the American Association in addition to serving as director of minor league clubs of the Cardinal chain for a time.

"We won't do anything about players until the major-minor league meeting but I plan to direct the Cardinals just as I did the club at Houston," Dyer said.

Churchill's Paintings To Be Published in U.S.

NEW YORK (CP)—Pictures painted by Winston Churchill have been brought to the United States for reproduction in Life magazine, it was learned.

The collection includes several paintings executed during Mr. Churchill's recent vacation on the Riviera and in the Italian lake country. Mostly landscapes, they were flown to the United States from London by clipper.

Well-Known Artists In 'Blossom Time'

One of the outstanding box-office attractions of today, "Blossom Time," will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria, Friday and Saturday evenings.

This colorful operetta has weathered 24 years of storm and stress, to become a treasured classic for music lovers throughout the world. Now on a transcontinental tour of the United States and Canada, the 24th anniversary production of the Schubert-Romberg musical romance features the following well-known artists: Edmund Dorsay, Ruth Gillette, Tom Barry, Zella Russell, Harry K. Morton, Marian Stevens, Frank Farrell and Ann Lay. The orchestra will be under the direction of Harry Archer.

'Different' Family Highlight York Film

As a very definite change from the usual type of "family" movie that has been ground out by Hollywood in the past, Warner Bros. have produced "Roughly Speaking." An adaptation from Louise Randall Pierson's best-selling autobiography of the same name, the film stars Rosalind Russell and Jack Carson, and features Robert Hutton, Jean Sullivan, Craig Stevens, John Alvin, John Qualen and Alan Tale in supporting roles. This roaring saga of America's coming of age, set to the singing music of a courageous woman's heart, is now at the York Theatre.

Here is the real American family story. Not of the tinsel variety, of rah, rah football games and shy kisses, but a lusty tale of one family's hectic happy life through the roaring twenties, the lean thirties and the fighting forties.

DOMINION THEATRE

Compiled from musical pieces which he has developed over a period of nine years, Louis Armstrong, currently to be seen in Warner Bros.' "Pillow to Post," at the Dominion, has completed an original musical suite, which he will introduce himself at Carnegie Hall in New York. "Pillow to Post" also stars Ida Lupino, Sydney Greenstreet and William Prince.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Because of her performance as a cowgirl in Paramount's technicolor musical," "Incendiary Blonde," Betty Hutton was named queen of the largest rodeo ever staged in Los Angeles. More than 60 000 people attended the show. The Blonde Blitz portrays Texas Guinan in the picture now featured at the Capitol Theatre, with Arturo de Cordova her romantic co-star.

'Man From Oklahoma' At Dominion

A new song number by June Carroll and Sanford Green, who wrote much of the sorce for Republic's "An Angel Comes to Brooklyn," is introduced in the studio's "Man From Oklahoma," starring Roy Rogers, which comes to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

The song writing team scored an immediate success with the tunes written for "An Angel Comes to Brooklyn," and were hailed by critics among the most brilliant tunesmith duos.

Their new number heard for the first time in the musical western is "Blue Skies," which is sung by Rogers and pretty Dale Evans.

Yank On U-Boat Gives Film Thrill

Danger! . . . excitement! . . . action ahead! . . . as a courageous young Yank lures his Nazi captors into an undersea trap in Columbia's "U-Boat Prisoner" at the Rio Theatre.

Bruce Bennett and Erik Rolf appear in this unusual story . . . of an American who lived a thousand terrifying experiences aboard a hunted U-Boat! Stand by for thrills . . . as this daring Yank takes a Nazi sub for a ride to Davey Jones' locker!

Aubrey Wisberg has packed plenty of action into the screen play, adapted from a yarn by Archie Gibbs, and Lew Landers has directed for producer Wallace MacDonald in a style which is swiftly paced.

Joan Fontaine In Comedy Role

The Atlas Theatre offers something new in screen entertainment today. For one thing, "The Affairs of Susan," Hal B. Wallis release for Paramount, has Joan Fontaine playing the first real comedy role of her career and getting a kick out of it, too. For another thing, Miss Fontaine, as actress Susan Darrell, isn't content with one romance. She wants four and gets 'em—something a little different from the usual Hollywood formula.

George Brent, Dennis O'Keefe, Walter Abel and Don DeFore are the four men with whom the unpredictable "Susie" has her fling before finally making up her mind. The narrowing-down process provides the audience with a laugh treat and, incidentally, gives Joan opportunity to wear glamorous gowns which reveals her to be quite an eyeful.

'The Doughgirls' Have Hectic Time

The mad merry-go-round that is Washington today, its beehive streets and jammed hotels, filled to the brim with war heroes and war wives, acts as backdrop for Warner Bros.' new comedy hit, "The Doughgirls," which opens tonight at the Cadet Theatre.

Ducking in and out of halls and lobbies are a hotel full of favorites, including Ann Sheridan, Alexis Smith and Jane Wyman, starred in the roles of much beloved but not quite married "brides"; Jack Carson, Irene Manning and Charlie Ruggles; and Eve Arden, as Natalia, the pistol packin' mama from Siberia. Cast in important supporting roles are John Ridgely, John Alexander, Craig Stevens, Barbara Brown and Alan Mowbray.

Taken from the tremendously successful stage play by the same name, written by Joseph A. Fields, the film was produced by Mark Hellinger.

Greig's Concerto Feature of Concert By Victoria Symphony

Edvard Grieg has been called by some the "Chopin of the North," a comparison which was not meant to imply that he was an imitator of the great master, but that, in his own Norwegian idiom, he expressed the same lyric sense of melody, the same sensitive perception of harmonic detail and exquisite exactitude.

His Concerto in A minor, which is to be played by Madame Gertrude Huntly with the Victoria Symphony Orchestra, under Melvin Knudson, Monday evening, Nov. 19, confirms beyond doubt the opinion of Lawrence Gilman, who wrote that Grieg "wears no man's mantle, he borrows no man's speech."

In 1868 a daughter was born to the Griegs, and the piano concerto composed the summer of that year, is undoubtedly the instinctive expression of the joy and tenderness inspired by parenthood. The following spring Grieg showed the manuscript of the concerto to Liszt, who played it through (at sight) and, as he had done with Chopin, gave the young composer high praise and encouragement. Later that same year the concerto was introduced at Christiania, with Edmund Neupert as soloist.

The sonorous poetry of the first movement themes, the translucent piano arabesques of the second and the rhythmic fire and urgency of the final movement call forth qualities of pianism for which Madame Huntly is noted. In previous performances of the concerto in other cities the pianist has drawn eulogies from the critics.

The box office opens Tuesday, Nov. 13, at Fletcher Bros.' Music Store, when bookings may be made for this concert, or all three of the series, as desired.

Will Appeal Fines

ALBERNI (CP) — Two Nanaimo men, Wednesday night, were fined $500 each, or three months in jail, when convicted in police court of a charge of attempting to pit-lamp deer on the Nanaimo highway, last Saturday.

Len Noble and Jack Moore received the fines, while Steve Berak was issued a warning. They were arrested by Game Warden J. Dewar.

Trial began early Wednesday, and the case was one of the most keenly contested on the island in several years. All men were represented by counsel.

Notice of appeal was filed following the court's decision.

OAK BAY - PLAZA THEATRES

A passage of time in the movies is often indicated by the tried-and-true method of tearing away pages from a calendar or showing leaves falling from autumn trees, but in "Colonel Blimp," the delightful romantic comedy that is currently at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, a unique and highly hilarious idea is used to catapult the hero (Lieutenant Clive Candy) from 1902 to 1918.

We see Candy, played superbly by the handsome English actor, Roger Livesey, in the so-called "den" of his aunt's London mansion. She gathers from his attitude that he is carrying a torch for a lovely English girl who recently married a young German officer with whom he fought a duel in Berlin.

She loooks at him fondly as she points to the walls of the den, on one of which the huge head of a stuffed tiger has been nailed. Then she says softly: "There is still plenty of room, you see."

SAD CHILDHOOD HELPED PRODUCE MODERN KINDERGARTEN

People in general like to feel "glad" or "happy," and surely, with such a beautiful world as we have, there should be more happiness for everyone.

Yet there is something which can be said for sadness. Out of it may grow that which is good. If we read the life stories of famous men and women, we find that often they became great because they rose above the sorrows of their early lives.

Charles Dickens, for example, suffered during his boyhood because his father was put in prison for debt. His books, later on, did a great deal to end the cruel custom of imprisoning those who owed bills which they could not pay.

FRIEDRICH FROEBEL

Many other examples might be given, but I shall speak of only one more. Friedrich Froebel was in his 50's when he gave the world a new idea, and this idea grew from his memory of sad childhood days.

Froebel was born in the part of Germany known as Thuringia. His mother died when he was only nine months old. His father, a minister of the gospel, was too busy with church duties to pay much attention to the infant, or to the other little children in his household.

When Friedrich was four years old, a stepmother came into the Froebel home. Some stepmothers are kind to children under their care, but the second Mrs. Froebel was far from kind.

Late in his boyhood Friedrich was sent to live with an uncle, and from that time onward he found life more pleasant.

After growing up, Froebel became a teacher. His mind was busy with ideas of how to make schools better. He wrote a book, "The Education of Man," and in 1837 he started the first "kindergarten." This was a place where children from four to six years of age could have education in a happy, playful way.

Since that time, the kindergarten idea has spread far and wide. Millions of boys and girls have had pleasant hours in kindergarten, and they may think of the little boy who suffered in his childhood, but did something for the world after he grew to manhood.

Destroyer Comes Home

The sleek bow of H.M.C.S. Crescent noses into her berth alongside H.M.C.S. Algonquin. The Crescent, one of the newest additions to Canada's navy strength, brought 31 veterans from the European thatre of war when she reached Esquimalt, her first Canadian port, Wednesday. Commanding her is Lt.-Cmdr. P. Nixon, D.S.O., R.C.N., whose mother, Mrs. A. Boydell, lives on Wilkinson Road.

Hello darling! Welcome home! . . . You can't see their faces, but it's Cpl. Sylvia Birkett, C.W.A.C., 918 Hillside Avenue, greeting her fiancee, Sgt. L. R. Punt, 600 Speed Avenue, who has spent three and a half years overseas. Sgt. Punt, reaching Canada aboard H.M.C.S. Crescent today got this hug from his sweetheart some few minutes before the gangplank was laid between the berthed destroyer H.M.C.S. Algonquin and the Crescent.

The DOCTOR Says:

NUTRITION AN AID TO HEALTH, SUCCESS

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Half the struggle for life is a struggle for food. Most of us spend as much money for food as we do for all other life necessities. A low family income requires the mother to have a better-than-average knowledge of nutrition, which often is not the case. Well-nourished children usually come from good-income homes, but low-income homes also produce superior children if good nutritional principles are practiced.

College students are taller and heavier than young men and women of corresponding ages who do not go to college, according to H. S. Diehl, M.D., who analyzed the heights and weights of 40,000 college students.

COLLEGE MEN TALLER

At 18 years of age college men are approximately two inches taller than non-college men, and college women are one inch taller than non-college women. College men are six pounds heavier than men who do not go to college, while college women weigh more only at the age of 16. From 17 to 21, college women's weights fall behind their non-college sisters. College students grow more rapidly during childhood and reach their maximum height and weight at an earlier age.

TEACHING SHOWS RESULTS

Ous educational system is sometimes criticized for teaching nutrition in the schools. Some people apparently believe that any mother could teach her daughter all she needs to know about the preparation and serving of food. This would be satisfactory if there were no new developments in the field of nutrition. Nutrition education has been successful, as induction figures indicate all young men and women today are taller and heavier than their parents were when they were examined in World War 1.

Essential foods for growing children are grouped as follows: 1. One quart of pasteurized milk and milk products (enriched); 2. One serving of meat, poultry, or fish, and one egg; 3. One serving of orange grapefruit, or tomato juice, or raw cabbage and salad greens; 3. One serving of potatoes, two servings of other vegetables, including: 4. Green and yellow vegetables; 5. Liberal serving of bread and cereals (natural, whole-grain or enriched); 6. Two squares of butter or fortified margarine; 7. One serving of cod-liver oil or other fish oil concentrates. Daily selection from each group in this list is based on the child's age and activity and the family food budget.

Mother, Son Die In 12-Story Plunge

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A woman and her young son were killed in a plunge from the 12th floor of an hotel here Wednesday.

Police said the dead were Mrs. Katherine Donley, wife of a New York radio announcer, and her eight-year-old son, James. They said Mrs. Donley left a note describing domestic difficulties and saying "I can't see my way."

COLD GOT YOU ALL STUFFED-UP?

Do This Quick for Relief!

If you are sneezing and snuffling from a cold . . . all stuffed-up, with your nose and throat raw and sore—combat this distress, as thousands do, by gargling with new Pepsodent Antiseptic.

The reason it's recommended is this: Standard laboratory tests prove new Pepsodent Antiseptic kills millions of germs that go with colds. The very type of germs that many medical authorities say often heighten the misery and prolong the effects of a cold.

Isn't it only common sense then, to gargle with new Pepsodent Antiseptic at first sign of a cold! What better way to combat millions of germs that swarm on mouth and throat surfaces as far back as you can reach . . . back where illness often strikes first!

So treat a cold this sensible way: Get plenty of rest, avoid exposure, dress warmly, drink plenty of liquids . . . and gargle frequently with new Pepsodent Antiseptic. See if you don't relieve discomfort almost at once!

One Woman's Day...

By NANCY HODGES

BEES GET BUSY

A SWARM of 24 queen bees and 2,000 working bees flew to France from LaGuardia Field, New York, a few weeks ago.

They went, not under their own motive power, but by plane, under State Department priority.

For these particular bees have a particular job—to help put war-ravaged France back on her feet.

The royal emigres have gone to the rescue of Rhone Valley farmers, who lost their queen bees when the Nazis systematically destroyed French bee life.

In the same ruthless way in which they destroyed human and other life.

ANONYMOUS GIFT

THE BEES WERE the gift of an anonymous American donor, who once lived in Marseilles.

An appeal for queen bees was first made many months ago to the United States army by Pierre Pinguet, secretary of the Society of Beekeepers of the Lower Rhone Valley.

The army authorities were sympathetic, but were unprepared to meet such contingencies.

The U.S. State and Agriculture Departments were next appealed to but were also powerless to help.

So the anonymous donor, who had served with the French army in the first World War, came to the rescue.

FOOD SUPPLY THREAT

HE ARRANGED the gift and the flight when he learned that the food supply of France, as well as its floral and perfume industries, were threatened.

And obtained the finest queens available from a bee culturist in Alabama. Then got the Army and State Departments to sanction the plane trip.

So the southern belles from Alabama traveled in regal splendor aboard a C54 transport.

Each had her private royal quarters—a separate cage about an inch and a half high, in a nine-inch square crate.

The royal compartments were in the bottom of the crate—and the 2,000 workers were clustered together in the "steerage" above.

NO FRATERNIZATION

AS WITH MANY human travelers, segregated into different classes, there was no fraternization en route.

The workers were all members of the same family, so they wouldn't fight each other.

But fraternizing was definitely taboo for the royal favorites. Otherwise there would have been mass murder on the way over—and no queens left by the time the ship reached France.

The U.S. Agriculture Department bee specialist who boxed the queens for the journey had to take special precautions.

It was necessary to gas each one to prevent casualties. But they quickly revived when they got in their cages, and, according to him, seemed in high spirits for the trip.

GIFTS OF CANDY

LIKE THEIR HUMAN counterparts, the feminine travelers were given plenty of soft candy for consumption en route.

It was provided for them by worker, or neuter, bees which waited on the queens.

These workers fed their royal charges by bearing food on the tips of their tongues through the cages.

In addition, they provided water and generally catered to the royal whimsies.

For such patient service their reward is little. For these workers only live about six weeks.

But their royal mistresses will live for several years. In that time each is expected to become the founder of swarms ranging up to 30,000 bees.

And if they prove amenable to the change of habitat, more queens will be sent over to join them in helping to rehabilitate France.

VAST WORKING BEE

I LIKE THE THOUGHT of those little winged messengers of international goodwill flying off to undertake a vast working bee for France.

I hope they will manage to find enough blossoms springing up among the debris and between the slit trenches to provide them with nectar.

Perhaps the foxholes may even be greening with clover, who knows? And, as Emily Dickenson says:

"The pedigree of honey
Does not concern the bee.
A clover, any time, to him
Is Aristocracy."

But whether the bees find clover or have to be content with less aristocratic fare, I know their buzzing will sound like honeyed music in the war-deafened ears of the people of the French countryside.

London Market

LONDON (Reuter)—The stock market again was quiet and closed irregular.

British funds met active trading, but the number of sellers and buyers were about evenly divided and prices generally were unchanged. Home rails eased due to absence of interest.

Industrials were quiet although fresh support appeared for Cable and Wireless. Other recent favorites, however, were scarcely changed.

Among foreign bonds Czechoslovakia 8 per cent gained £1 at £100 on the payments agreement between Czechoslovakia and Great Britain.

International dollar stocks were firm in unison with higher New York advices and South African gold mines met selective support.

British stock closings: Austin Motor A 35s 6d, Babcock & Wilcox 60s, Boots Pure Drug 55s 4½d, Central Mining £24½, Consolidated Goldfields 82s 6d, Courtaulds 57s 9d, Crown Mines 176s 3d, De Beers £18, East Geduld £11¼, Hudson's Bay Co. 93s 6d, London Midland Railway £26¾, Metal Box 98s 1½d, Mexican Eagle 12s 4½d, Mining Trust Ltd. 6s 9d, Rand Mines 160s, Spring Mines 17s 6d.

Bonds: British 2½% Consols £91¾, British 3½% War Loan £103¼, British Funding 4s 1960-90 £113¼.

New York

Favorites Reach For New Highs

NEW YORK (AP) — Assorted stock market favorites continued to reach for new highs today, although many rail and industrial leaders succumbed to profit cashing following seven successive rising sessions.

Activity tapered now and then after the opening but speed-ups were frequent and volume of around 2,000,000 shares again was one of the largest since last June. While plus signs running to four points or so dotted the ticker tape near the close, declines of factions to better than a point were widespread. Most extreme losses were reduced in the final hour.

Distillers Seagram was well in advance of other Canadian issues with a gain of 1½ at midday. Lake Shore was up ⅛, while Canadian Pacific was unchanged. Dome Mines lost ¼.

Slackened Market Shows Net Losses

TORONTO (CP) — Prices developed a moderately soft tone in the afternoon period today and the close was net losses for the session. Trading slackened off on weakness and aggregate turnover was about 3,000,000 shares.

Some junior golds continued in the spotlight. Golden Arrow set the pace, trading in heavy volume on an advance of about 12 cents or more. Other issues of the group moving in volume at higher prices included Arntfield, Piccadilly, Central Porcupine, Francoeur and Ansley.

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP) — An aggressive advance was registered on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today when rye futures soared to the 5 cent limit. The market closed from 5 to 3⅝ cents higher, with Dec. 1.83¾B, May 1.80½ to 1.80⅝, and July 1.71⅛.

The session generally was an active one. There was buying by commission houses, locals and American interests, and upturns at Chicago provided fuel for the rally. Offerings were relatively light early in the session, but increases at top levels were well absorbed.
